FOREWORD

THE warm welcome which greeted the POLITICAL HANDBOOK OF THE WORLD has led to the decision to revise and reissue it annually

No comprehensive periodical survey of the parliaments, parties and press of the world has heretofore been made. When a new Ministry is reported in France or Japan, when an important statement is issued by a public leader, when comment on some current international question is quoted from the foreign press, a reader often is unable to judge the true significance of such items of news. The Political Handbook is designed to meet the need for this special information.

The sources from which information has been gathered are many and varied. Some of them are official and some private. It is impossible to quote or refer to these sources, but the editor considers them reliable.

In reference to the sections on the press, two points are to be observed. First, an effort has been made to select those papers which are most apt to be quoted abroad, many papers of large circulation and much local influence are necessarily omitted. Second, in listing the proprietor of a paper, the term has been used to indicate the chief proprietor or controlling shareholder.

The editor wishes to take this occasion to express his sincere thanks to the many correspondents in all parts of the world who have supplied information for this volume, and especially to Frank D. Caruthers, Jr. and Edgar Packard Dean, who have most ably assisted with the checking of material and the careful reading of the proofs.

Valuable suggestions have been offered by the readers of previous editions. They are hereby gratefully acknowledged. Many of these have been incorporated in this new issue. Since the Political Handbook will be revised and republished at regular intervals, criticisms and suggestions will be welcomed.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADER

Following a period of anarchy Albania was proclaimed a republic in 1925. It was a republic in name only. In 1924 Ahmed Zog had headed the military movement which overthrew the government of Bishop Fan S. Noli. Under his leadership his party won a decisive victory in the election of 1925, when he became President. On June 17, 1928, President Zog issued writs for a general election. The newly elected Assembly amended the National Constitution so as to permit the President to ascend the throne of a new kingdom of Albania. The King is supported by Koço Kotta (Premier and Minister of Economy and Public Works), Ekrem Lohovova (Minister of Foreign Affairs), Musa Juska (Minister of the Interior), Thoma Orologa (Minister of Justice), Kol Thaçi (Minister of Finance) and Faik Shutku (Minister of Public Instruction).

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

Political interest in Argentina centers largely around the presidential elections scheduled for November 1937 and the gradual return of the Radical Party which went out of power when the Government of Dr Hipolito Yrigoyen was overthrown by the revolution of 1930 General elections were held on November 8, 1931, and the Radicals decided not to participate However, they returned to the polls in the 1935 elections and secured 44 seats in the Chamber of Deputies in the 1936 elections for half of the Members of the Chamber

The present Government is considered more in the nature of a stop gap coalition composed principally of the National Democratic Party (Conservative) The Anti-Personalist Radicals and the Independent Socialists together with the National Democrats make up the coalition known as the Concordancia which may be said to represent in general the more conservative elements

President Justo who came in as a compromise candidate cannot under the Constitution be reelected

The opposition, known as the Popular Front, is made up of Radicals together with the Socialists who are centered in the City of Buenos Aires and the Progressive Democrats who are strong in the Province of Santa Fe. It is difficult to say which of the two opposing groups now commands the majority in the National Chamber of Deputies. It appears likely that the Radicals will continue to gain in any fair election since it is generally accepted that a large majority of the population is in sympathy with the Radical Party.

THE NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY Favors certain reforms advocated by the late Provisional President Uriburu for revising the constitution with the object of safeguarding the independent authority of the national legislature and judiciary, and of the provinces, improvement of taxation system so as to avoid double taxation, protection of national production against unfair foreign competition, the revision of foreign treaties so as to secure reciprocity and suppression of the most favored nation clause, laws for increasing the facility for acquiring land by those who actually cultivate it, and development of natural resources, sound money, reform of system of note issue, reforms in penal laws and arbitration in labor disputes.

Leaders Antonio Santamarina, Robustiano Patron Costas, Jose H. Martinez, Rodolfo Corominas Segura, Miguel Angel Carcano (Minister of Agriculture) and Alberto Arancibia Rodriguez.

RADICAL ANTIPERSONALISTA PARTY Favors direct election for president, vice-president and senators of the nation, extension of the right of voting to women, changes in the mining code so as to prevent the exploitation or monopolization of oil, coal, waterfalls and other natural resources to the detriment of public interests, encouragement of colonization and division of land.

Leaders Dr Leopoldo Melo (formerly Minister of Interior), Aldo Cantoni and Carlos A. Bruchmann.

SOCIALIST PARTY Favors reform of the constitution, such as would be calculated to accentuate its democratic and liberal content. Advocates direct election of senators, separation of church from state, division of big estates, nationalization of oil and its exploitation by state or mixed enterprises, reduction of taxes on articles of general consumption, and the reduction of customs duties, taxes on increment value of the land, legal recognition of trade unions, minimum salary for employees established by mixed commissions, compulsory education up to eighteen years, insurance against illness and unemployment, old age pensions, disarmament pact between the countries of America and political rights for women.

Leaders Dr Nicolas Repetto, Drs Adolfo and Enrique Dickmann, Dr Mario Bravo and Dr Alfredo L. Palacios.

PROGRESSIVE DEMOCRATIC PARTY Has similar program to that of the Socialist Party, its greatest strength is in the Province of Santa Fe.

Leaders Dr Lisandro de la Torre, Julio R. Noble, Dr Julio Gonzalez Iramain and Dr Luciano Molinas.

UNION CIVICA RADICAL PARTY Before this Party decided not to take part in the election of November, 1931, it had nominated Marcelo Alvear and Dr Adolfo Guemes candidates for the presidency and vice presidency and had adopted a party platform. The latter included constitutional reforms, higher taxes on articles of luxury for a limited time with a view to developing national production, exoneration of agricultural property worth less than ten thousand pesos from all taxation, protection to national production, political rights for women, progressive tax on incomes, abolition of exportation taxes, tax on absenteeism, change in mining law so as to authorize the state to own and operate oil wells and presumably mines, special railroad tariffs for slow freight for cereals

Leaders Dr. Marcelo T de Alvear, José Luis Candilo, Dr Honorio Pueyrredon (formerly Ambassador to the United States), Dr Mario M Guido and José P Tamborini

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

UNITED AUSTRALIA PARTY This party is an amalgamation of several non-Labor interests brought into being at the close of 1931 through widespread dissatisfaction with Labor policy in the economic crisis. It has also afforded an opportunity for the reunion of sections of the Nationalist Party which split apart preceding the 1929 election. Except on tariff matters, it works in co-operation with the United Country Party. Its policy favors "sane government" and opposes communism. The elimination of overlapping of Federal and State powers is advocated. It stands for revision of the industrial system, the fixing of labor hours and wages by Federal authorities, and other industrial conditions by State authorities. It opposes policy of production restriction for primary products and has proposed a referendum to permit alteration to constitution to validate Federal legislation for control of marketing of primary products. Its external policy includes loyalty to the Throne, the continuance of Australia as a member of the British Empire and Empire trade reciprocity, e g it stands for the policy of the Ottawa Conference The Party favors democratic progress on conservative lines

Leaders J A Lyons (Prime Minister, Vice-President of Executive Council, formerly Labor Premier of Tasmania and Labor Postmaster-General), R G Casey (Treasurer), R G Menzies (Attorney-General and Minister for Industry), Sir George Pearce (Minister for External Affairs), Senator A J McLachlan (Postmaster General) and R Archdale Parkhill (Minister for Defense)

LABOR PARTY (FEDERAL GROUP) Until 1935, the Labor Party remained divided into two sharply defined and bitterly hostile groups, one supporting the Federal platform of the organization and the other favoring a more radical policy The latter group, under the leadership of the former New South Wales Premier (Mr Lang), whose party was defeated in the New South Wales State elections in June 1932 and May 1935, comprised nine members, all representatives of industrial electorates Under the Federal leadership of Mr J A Beasley, formerly Assistant Minister for Industry, the group advocated inflation of the currency, unification of Parliaments, the reduction of overseas financial obligations and militant trades unionism Following conferences late in 1935, the Lang group submerged its identity and became a Left Wing element in the Federal Labor Party during the first Parliamentary session of 1936 While in office, Labor emphasized Australian nationalism and imposed high customs tariff It advocated freedom from external obligations, disarmament and pacifist aims In domestic policy, its objective was the socialization of the means of production, distribution and exchange, the breaking up of large estates for more intensive settlement and government ownership and control of public utilities It stood for high protectionist policy to foster Australian secondary industries and improvement in workers' standard of living Though it favored national insurance, the extension of motherhood endowment and state care of the sick and aged, it reduced old age, invalid, and military pensions and maternity allowances under the stress of economic circumstances Following its heavy defeats, it adopted a policy of nationalization of the banks to secure government control of public finance The Labor Party advocates Australian State Governors, and a Commonwealth Governor-General Sir Isaac Isaacs, who preceded the present Governor-General, was the first Australian so appointed The Labor Party makes selections for Cabinet posts by caucus instead of leaving appointments to the Party Leader

Leaders John Curtin (Leader of the Party), and F M Forde (formerly Minister for Trade and Customs), N Makin (President of Federal Executive of Party), J S Collings (Leader in Senate)

UNITED COUNTRY PARTY Its attitude toward the Empire is the same as that of the United Australia Party In federal affairs, it favors the reduction of tariffs on manufactured goods and lowering of the costs of production It has absorbed several movements aiming at the creation of new States, particularly in New South Wales In domestic policy it stands for the interests of primary and rural producers, both in matters of production and marketing, and favors the decentralization of interests from the big cities, and advocates extension of "home consumption price" to wheat and Federal System of rural rehabilitation by debt relief It strongly favors constitutional amendment to validate Federal legislation for control of marketing of primary products The United Country Party united with the United Australia Party during the 1934 elections to fight Labor

merce), H. V. Thorby (Minister without Portfolio), J. A. Hunter (Minister without Portfolio) and Thomas Paterson (Minister for the Interior)

PRESS

Few of the papers have definite party political affiliations. The Labor papers invariably support Labor Governments, and the other papers invariably oppose Labor Governments, but their attitude to other parties is conditioned by financial, industrial, or fiscal preconceptions. Thus, the Age and the Bulletin are strong protectionist papers. The Sydney Morning Herald is inclined toward free trade. On other questions, the press will support or oppose any political party, other than Labor, in accordance with its views of what constitutes sound finance and honest government.

LEGISLATIVE BODIES

The constitution of May 1, 1934, which altered the form of government from "Republic" to "Federal State," abolished the party parliamentary system in Austria. In the new Staende-State proclaimed on that date the national legislative functions are divided between one deciding organ, the Federal Diet, and four advisory organs, the National Council, Inter State Council, Economic Council and Cultural Council. These bodies were appointed on October 31, 1934, by the Federal President on the recommendation of the Federal Chancellor. As soon as the Staende-State system has begun to work smoothly the Cultural Council and Economic Council are to become elective.

(A) Advisory organs National Council (Staatsrat) consisting of 50 members appointed by the Federal President for a period of 10 years (Chairman Rudolf Hoes) Cultural Council (Bundeskulturrat) consisting of 8 representatives of the Roman Catholic, 1 of the Protestant and 1 of the Jewish Church, 22 representatives of school and educational organizations and 4 representatives of science and art (Chairman Dr. Josef Bick), Economic Council (Bundeshirtschaftsrat) consisting of 29 representatives of agriculture and forestry, 15 of industry and mining, 12 of trade, 9 of commerce and transportation and 4 of banking and insurance (Chairman Hans Eichinger), Inter State Council (Laenderrat) consisting of the Governor and the Comptroller-General of each of the 8 states and of the Federal City of Vienna (Chairman Dr. Heinrich Gleissner)

(B) Deciding organ Federal Diet (Bundesstag) consisting of 20 members of the National Council, 10 members of the Cultural Council, 20 members of the Economic Council and 9 members of the Inter-State Council (Chairman Rudolf Hoes)

tion of the draft laws by one or more of the above mentioned advisory bodies whose function approximates that of important committees in party political parliaments elsewhere. The National Council is obliged to report on all bills presented to it by the Government within a fixed period, the Government alone having legislative initiative, the Cultural Council reports on bills of cultural importance, the Economic Council on bills of economic importance and the Inter State Council on bills affecting the interests of the individual states and the City of Vienna. Any one or all of the Councils may make voluntary reports on any draft law under consideration by the Government or the Federal Diet when obligatory reports are not required of them.

(C) The Federal Assembly (Bundesversammlung), consisting of the entire membership of the four Councils mentioned under 'A,' shall meet when required to elect three candidates for the Presidency, to swear in a new Federal President, to authorize a declaration of war or to perform other stated functions.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

Since the proclamation of the Staende State Constitution on May 1, 1934, there has existed officially only one national party, The Fatherland Front (Vaterlaendische Front), a trade marked political monopoly founded by the late Federal Chancellor Dr. Engelbert Dollfuss to give effect in national life to the Papal Encyclical "Quadragesimo anno," on whose principles the Staende State Austria is based. Preparatory thereto the parties which opposed such a course were outlawed, namely, Communist Party May 26, 1933, National Socialist Party (Nazis) June 19, 1933 and Social Democratic Party (Marxian Socialists) February 12, 1934. The sole powerful party remaining thereafter, the Christian Socialists (Catholic Clerical), was liquidated September 27, 1934.

The National Commander (Federal Leader) of The Fatherland Front is the Federal Chancellor, his authorized substitute is the Vice Chancellor, the Executive Secretary is Dr. Guido Zernatto. The dominating political factor within Fatherland Front and outside thereof is an unofficial semi-democratic Peasant-Labor Front organized by the peasant leader Josef Reither in cooperation with the veteran Anti Marxist trade unionist Leopold Kunschack and Mayor Josef Kollmann of Baden.

Members of the Cabinet. Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg (Chancellor and Minister of National Defense and Foreign Affairs), General Ludwig Huebgerth (Vice Chancellor and Commander in-chief of the Militia), Dr. Adolf Pilz (Minister of Justice), Dr. Hans Pernter (Minister of Education), Dr. Josef Resch (Minister of Social Welfare), Dr. Rudolf Neumayer (Minister of Finance), Peter Mandorfer (Minister of Agriculture and Forestry), Prof. Dr. Wilhelm Taucher (Minister of Commerce and Transportation), Odo Neustaedter Stuermer (Minister charged with matters pertaining to public safety), Dr. Edmund Glaise Horstenau (Minister of Interior), Dr. Guido Schmidt (Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs), Guido Zernatto (Secretary of State for the Fatherland Front), General Wilhelm Zehner (Secretary of State for National Defense), Hans Rott (Secretary of State for Labor in Ministry of Social Welfare).

PRESS

Following the dissolution of Parliament in 1933 the Government began to issue decrees intended to correct abuse of the Freedom of the Press. Full Government control over the press was obtained by the Federal law of October 26, 1934 which went into effect on November 7, 1934 and provides that henceforth the publication of any kind of newspaper shall be subject to a special license which may be granted only if the editor is unobjectionable from a moral as well as a political point of view. The House can be withdrawn at any time at the discretion of the Commissioner of Public Safety. The organs of the National Socialist, of the Communist and of the Social-Democratic parties have been suppressed, and of other publications sympathizing with these parties only those are allowed to continue that appear to have shared their sentiments in favor of the Government.

Under the Ständestaat régime the provincial newspapers have assumed greater importance.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

SOCIALIST PARTY Anti-clerical and reformist. In foreign policy, favors program of 2d Internationale, League of Nations, limitation of armaments and free trade, in domestic policy, nationalization of mines, insurance companies and electrical plants, taxation of capital, representation of workers in industrial management, social and unemployment insurance, compulsory vocational education, government aid in cheap housing and low taxation of workers, compulsory schooling to age of 16, retirement and old age pensions at 60. Program is embodied in so-called "Plan De Man."

Leaders Emile Vandervelde (Minister of Public Health), C. Huysmans (President of the Chamber of Representatives, formerly Minister of Science and Arts, Burgomaster of Antwerp), Eduard Anseele (formerly Minister of Marine, Posts, Telegraphs and Aeronautics), Louis de Brouckere (formerly Senator), Emile Brunet (formerly President of the Lower Chamber), Paul Henri Spaak (Minister of Foreign Affairs and Foreign Commerce), Achille

Delattre (Minister of Labor), Henri de Man (Minister of Finance) and Louis Pierard (Deputy)

CATHOLIC PARTY On October 11, 1936, a general assembly of the Catholic Party approved the reorganization of the Party under the name of the Belgian Catholic Bloc. There is a practically autonomous Flemish Catholic branch of the Bloc known as the Flemish Catholic People's Party (Katholieke Vlaamsche Volkspartij) and an equally autonomous branch in the French speaking districts and Brussels known as the Social Catholic Party (Parti Catholique Social). The two branches are represented in a newly constituted body known as the Directorate. The Christian Democrats (the Catholic Labor Federation) have independent local organizations but also belong to the Flemish Catholic People's Party and the Social Catholic Party. Loyalty to the Church is almost the only cohesive force in the Catholic Bloc and the new organization is an attempt to stem the disintegration which was rapidly undermining the old Catholic Party. The nobility, Flemish peasants, industrialists and labor who are believing Catholics, are practically all adherents of the Bloc. The Catholic Bloc in general approves the foreign policy of freedom from alliances advocated by King Leopold in his speech of October 14, 1936. In domestic policy, it stands for the defense of the interests of the Catholic Church, state contributions to expenses of religious schools, adequate national defense, conservative social reforms and woman suffrage.

LIBERAL PARTY Represents upper middle class and, to a certain extent, large business interests, also professional groups, constituency largely French-speaking, comprises two factions, conservative and radical, the latter anti-clerical and inclining to cooperation with the Socialists, nationalists. Supported Franco-Belgian policy toward Germany, and later reparations program, favors free trade, the League of Nations and strong national defense.

Leaders Paul Hymans (Minister of State), A. Devreze (Minister of State), Adolphe Max (Burgomaster of Brussels), Paul Emile Janson (formerly Minister of Justice), Pierre Fortomme (Senator), F. Boeyens (Minister of Justice), Max Leo Gerard (former Minister of Finance), O. Dierckx (Senator), Leon Dens (Senator, formerly Minister of National Defense) and Julius Horne (Minister of Education).

REXIST PARTY For the first time the Rexist presented candidates in the May elections of 1936 and the election of 21 of the number to the Chamber was the outstanding feature of the 1936 parliamentary elections at which they polled 11.4% of the popular vote. Their sudden rise to national fame is the work of Mr. Leon Degrelle, their chief or leader. The platform of the party has never been clearly defined, but Mr. Degrelle has violently attacked practically everyone who is or has been in power, especially men who have combined political and financial power, whom he calls "banksters" In foreign affairs no definite policy has been advocated, but a marked friendliness toward Germany and contempt for the League of Nations have been shown In domestic affairs the Rexists advocate constitutional reform of the Government, reducing Parliament to a body of fifty and establishing alongside of it a corporative organization which to date has not been defined Peace on the language question, peace on the school question, social justice to the workers, and protection to small tradespeople from the competition of chain and department stores are all points in the Rexist program His enemies accuse Mr Degrelle of wishing to establish a dictatorship, which he vigorously denies, but it is generally believed that the aim of the Rexist movement is the establishment of some sort of an authoritarian state

Leaders Leon Degrelle, Count Xavier de Grunne (Senator) and Pierre Daye (Deputy)

FLEMISH NATIONALIST PARTY Extreme Flemish Party, demands autonomy of Flemish part of the country, and unilingual regime in Flanders A working agreement, the terms of which are unpublished, was concluded with the new Rexist group in October 1936

Leaders Staf Declercq and Romsee (Deputy)

COMMUNIST PARTY Leaders J V Lahaut and X Relecom (Deputies)

* As constituted prior to the resolution of May 1936

In a bloodless revolution on May 17th, 1936 the government of President Sorzano was overthrown. The coup was led by Colonel German Busch, Acting Chief of Staff of the Army, and he was supported by the three socialist parties: the Republican Socialists, the National Socialists and the Socialists. A socialist and military junta was formed, and Colonel David Toro was selected as Provisional President. On June 20, 1936, the Cabinet was reorganized with three civilian and six military members. On June 23, 1936, Dr. Enrique Finot who was then Ambassador to Washington, was appointed Minister of Foreign Affairs. The other civilian members are Fernando Campero (Minister of Finance) and Antonio Alvarez (Minister of Labor).

Col Toro has announced that his government aims to create a Socialist State with syndicalization of all national activities and establishment of a non-political parliamentary body which shall be "purely functional."

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

The political parties in Bolivia with their programs and leaders as they were constituted prior to the revolution of May, 1936, were as follows

LIBERAL PARTY Founded in 1880, in power from 1898 to 1920 when it was overthrown by the Republican Party in a bloodless revolution. Its foreign policy favored peaceful settlement of international disputes by arbitration. Its domestic policy tended toward conservatism in financial matters and opposed the more inflationary measures which were brought forward during the depression.

Leaders Jose Luis Tejada Sorzano (formerly President), Carlos Calvo (Delegate to Chaco Peace Conference), Thomas Manuel Elío (formerly Minister of Foreign Affairs), Casto Rojas (formerly Minister to Argentina), Plácido Sánchez (Minister to Spain), Jose Salinas (formerly Minister of Public Works), Juan Maria Zalles (Minister to Argentina), Jose Maria Gutierrez (formerly Minister of Public Instruction and Acting Minister of Foreign Affairs), Manuel Carrasco (formerly Acting Minister of Foreign Affairs), Federico Gutierrez Granier (formerly Minister of Finance), Juan Muñoz Reyes and Jose Melchor Cuadros (Senator).

GENUINE REPUBLICAN PARTY Founded in 1914 by Dr. Daniel Salamanca and Sr. Jose Maria Escalier and others, formerly Liberals. After the Revolution of 1920 the Republican Party split into two sections: (1) The Saavedristas (also called Government Republicans, Personalist Republicans and Socialist Republicans) who in 1921 elected Dr. Bautista Saavedra President of the Republic, and (2) The Escalieristas (now called the Genuine Republicans), followers of the defeated candidate, Dr. Jose Maria Escalier. The program of this party as regards foreign policy advocated recovery of Bolivian territory now under dispute, and a port on the Pacific. In domestic policy it advocated freedom of speech and of the press, and highway construction.

Leaders Dr. Daniel Salamanca (formerly President), Rafael de Ugarte (formerly Minister of Government), David Alvestegui (formerly Minister of Foreign Affairs), Luis Calvo (Deputy), Joaquin Espada (formerly Minister of Finance), Demetrio Canelas (Deputy) and Franz Tamayo (formerly President, Chamber of Deputies).

SOCIALIST REPUBLICAN PARTY In foreign policy advocated firm opposition to Paraguay's claim to the Chaco. Vigorously opposed non aggression pact discussed in Washington. In domestic policy favored improvement in welfare of Indians, advanced social legislation, and was opposed to larger capitalistic interests in Bolivia.

Leaders Bautista Saavedra (formerly President), Juan Manuel Sainz (formerly Minister of Public Instruction), Roman Paz (formerly Minister of Foreign Affairs), Jose Espada Aguirre (formerly Minister of Public Works), Eduardo Diez de Medina (formerly Minister to the United States), Gabriel Gosalvez (formerly Minister of Defence) and Pedro Zilveti Arce.

NATIONALIST PARTY This party was formed by Dr. Hernando Siles. As a result of the 1930 revolution it lost much of its influence and organization.

Leaders Dr. Hernando Siles (Minister to Chile), Rafael Taborga, Jose Antezana, Enrique Finot (Minister of Foreign Affairs) and Fabian Vaca Chavez (formerly Minister of Foreign Affairs).

SOCIALIST PARTY Formed as the result of a split in the Nationalist Party in 1936.

Leaders: Enrique Baldivieso (formerly Minister of Foreign Affairs), José Tamayo (Mayor of La Paz), Fernando Campero (Minister of Finance), Florencio Candia (Private Secretary to the Presidency).

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

Revolution broke out in Brazil on October 3, 1930, and the government of Dr. Washington Luis Pereira de Sousa was overthrown on October 24th. A Constituent Congress was formed and a new Constitution for Brazil was promulgated on July 16, 1934. It is similar to the Constitution which was in effect from 1891 to 1930, though it tends to be more nationalistic and there are provisions which aim to strengthen the unity of the country.

No national parties exist, in the true sense of the word, but parties exist in the States. The northern states tend to be more radical than the southern.

Pro-Government Leaders Dr. Getulio Vargas (President), Benedicto Valladares (President of Minas Geraes), Antonio Carlos Ribeiro de Andrada e Silva (President of the House of Representatives), Armando de Salles Oliveira (Governor of the State of Sao Paulo), Carlos de Lima Cavalcanti (Governor of the State of Pernambuco) and Juracy Magalhães (Governor of Bahia).

Opposition Leaders Arthur Bernardes (formerly President of Brazil), Afranio de Mello Franco (formerly Minister of Foreign Affairs), Altino Arantes, Plinio Salgado (Leader of Integralistas or Fascists), Borges de Medeiros, Raul Pilla, Joao Neves da Fontoura, Sampaio Correia and Otavio Mangabeira (formerly Minister of Foreign Affairs).

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

On May 19, 1934, a group of military men and politicians, assisted by the army, executed a coup d'etat which overthrew the Mushanov cabinet. King Boris accepted a dictatorship headed by Kimon Georgiev. All political parties were abolished and the formation of new parties declared illegal by a government decree on June 14, 1934.

Members of the Cabinet appointed on November 23, 1935, and reorganized twice since, are: George Kiosseivanov (Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs), Ivan Krasnovsky (Minister of Interior), General Lukov (Minister of War), Kiril Gunev (Minister of Finance), Dmitri Vulev (Minister of Commerce), General Yovov (Minister of Railways, Posts and Telegraph), R. Vassiliev (Minister of Agriculture), Spas Ganev (Minister of Public Works and Communications), Dr. N. P. Nicolayev (Minister of Education) and A. Karaghyosov (Minister of Justice). The new Cabinet is considered provisional, its task being to conduct new elections. It is opposed to the Army's intervention in politics.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

Though there are naturally differences at any one time between the programs of the political parties in Canada, there have been few fundamental differences between the policies pursued by Liberal and Conservative administrations. As in the United States there are radicals and conservatives within each major party, and the legislation sponsored by a party has necessarily been the result of compromise.

The fundamental difference between the parties of Europe and those of Canada grows out of the federal character of the Dominion of Canada. While each party maintains, at least during general elections, a national organization, it depends in the main upon organizations in each province which carry on provincial election campaigns, and also assist the national organization at federal elections. Each provincial organization is autonomous and at liberty to adopt any platform of principles which it chooses, and between the provincial organizations there is frequently a diversity of interest or at least a diversity in the selection of paramount issues. It follows that each major party includes in its membership citizens of all ranks and grades and some without apparent identity of interest or convictions. The strength within the major parties of different classes and sections of the community differs, however, and this difference in party composition explains in large measure those differences in party policies which exist at any given moment. The Conservative party is based on the English-speaking parts of Eastern Canada and especially on southern Ontario. The Liberal party secures its most dependable support in French-speaking Canada and, therefore, in the Province of Quebec. Its second basis of strength is the prairie provinces.

LIBERAL PARTY. It is traditionally the low-tariff party, the party of provincial rights, and the party which emphasizes Canada's equality of status with other self governing states of the British Commonwealth. It has, however, never made very drastic tariff reductions when in office. While supporting public ownership of railways, radio broadcasting, etc., its general policy is one of opposition to increased state intervention in the economic life of the country, and to the granting of increased powers to the executive which usually accompanies state intervention. It is critical of the tendency of the Ottawa Agreements to build up a distinct British Empire economic unit. Rather it favors the negotiation of special reciprocal trade agreements with countries both within and without the British Empire.

Leaders W. L. Mackenzie King (Prime Minister, President of Privy Council and Secretary of State for External Affairs), Raoul Dandurand (Minister without portfolio and Government Leader in Senate), Thomas A. Crerar (Minister of Mines and Resources), Ernest Lapointe (Minister of Justice and Attorney-General), P. J. A. Cardin (Minister of Public Works), Charles A. Dunning (Minister of Finance), J. C. Elliott (Postmaster General), W. D. Euler (Minister of Trade and Commerce), Fernand Rinfret (Secretary of State), Ian Mackenzie (Minister of National Defense), C. G. Power (Minister of Pensions and National Health), J. L. Hsley (Minister of National Revenue), J. E. Michaud (Minister of Marine and Fisheries), Norman Rogers (Minister of Labor), Clarence D. Howe (Minister of Transport), J. G. Gardiner (Minister of Agriculture).

CONSERVATIVE PARTY. Since 1878 it has been traditionally the high tariff party. It believes in using tariffs to protect Canadian industries against competition from countries with cheap labor and depreciated currencies, thus protecting the Canadian standard of living and providing an important urban market for Canadian farm products. Since it believes in tariffs also as a bargaining weapon to extract concessions in markets most able to absorb Canada's primary products, it negotiated the Ottawa Agreements and took steps to extend the principle of bargaining tariffs in proposals made to other countries, notably the United States. In its last year of office (1935) it appeared to consider increased state intervention in national economic life necessary today due to the absence of free competition, in order to ensure the operation of industries in the public interest. Thus it enacted measures to provide for the co-operative marketing of natural products, to safeguard investors, and to secure consumers from exploitation. It held that the federal authority should be responsible for such measures as unemployment and social insurance and the enforcement of minimum wages, maximum hours of work, and the abolition of child labor.

Leaders Richard Bedford Bennett (formerly Prime Minister, Leader in House of Commons), Arthur Meighen (Leader in Senate), Sir George H.

Perley (formerly Minister without portfolio), C. H. Cahan (formerly Secretary of State) H. A. Stewart (formerly Minister of Public Works), George Stirling (formerly Minister of National Defence) and J. Earl Layton (formerly Minister of National Revenue)

SOCIAL CREDIT PARTY Organized in 1935. Advocates adoption of modified form of Major Douglas's social credit proposals.

Leader John H. Blakenmore (Leader in the House of Commons)

COOPERATIVE COMMONWEALTH FEDERATION A federation of Labor, Farmer and Socialist parties organized in August, 1935. Long term program adopted at first annual national convention at Regina in 1935, and immediate program at Winnipeg convention 1934. Advocates establishment of planned and socialized economy. Favors immediate socialization of all banking and financial machinery, initiation of large scale program of public works, national minimum wage, maximum hours, and social insurance. main emphasis of Canadian neutrality even if United Kingdom is a beligerent. reorganization of League of Nations in order to make it an effective instrument for peace.

Leader J. S. Woodsworth (Chairman of National Council)

RECONSTRUCTION PARTY This party polled some 370,000 in the 1935 election and is represented in the House by a single member. It was organized on the eve of the 1935 election and has since been inactive.

Leader H. H. Stevens (formerly Minister of Trade and Commerce)

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

The election on October 30, 1932, of a President and complete new Congress brought a return to constitutional government in Chile. At the time of the elections there were over 20 political parties and groups. Supplementary elections were held in April and September, 1934, September, 1935, and in April and August, 1936, to fill vacancies.

The year 1936 saw in Chile the formation of the Popular Front composed of parties of the Left and extreme Left, including as well the numerically strong and influential Radical Party of the Center. The Front was organized as an anti-Administration alliance to oppose the Government which was supported by a coalition of the Conservative, Liberal, Democratic and Social Republican Parties. In September the Radical Party joined the Government coalition but presumably retained its affiliations with the Popular Front. An endeavor is now being made to clarify the position of the Radical Party with respect to its dual rôle

CONSERVATIVE PARTY Composed mainly of men of responsibility, distinction and wealth. The party of the Catholic Church and the old land owning classes. The economic program of this party is based on individualism. A group of younger members has shown more liberal tendencies.

Leaders Horacio Walker (Senator and President of the Party), Hector Rodriguez de la Sotta (Senator, former President of the Party and Presidential candidate in the 1932 elections), Arturo Lyon Peña, Rafael Luis Gumucio (Senator) and Alejo Lira Infante (Senator and Vice President of the Party)

LIBERAL PARTY There have been divisions in the Liberal Party and two factions were represented in the 1932 elections. They have since united but the division is still perceptible. The party belongs to the Right in Chilean politics.

Leaders Oscar Valenzuela (Senator and President of the Party), I Urrutia Manzano (Senator), Gustavo Ross (Minister of Finance), Ladislao Errazuriz, Luis Claro Solar, Jose Maza, Pedro Opazo Letelier (Senator), Enrique Zañartu Prieto (Presidential candidate in the 1932 elections) and Guillermo Correa Fuenzalida (Vice President of the Party)

RADICAL PARTY Potentially one of the strongest of the historic parties of Chile. Although theoretically of the Left, it might be characterized as of the Center with certain doctrinaire radicalism in respect to religious and social questions. Its program aimed originally at a lay regime in the management of the State. The Constitution of 1925 gave satisfaction to this political aspiration. The former distinction between the Radicals and Dissident Radicals has virtually disappeared as, prior to September, 1936, the Party was united in its opposition to the Administration. In that month, however, the Radical Party joined a coalition Government and three Radicals were appointed to the Cabinet.

Leaders Pedro Aguirre Cerda (former Senator), Senator Octavio Señoret (President of the Party), Luis Alamos Barros (Minister of Public Works) and Cristobal Saenz (Senator)

DEMOCRATIC PARTY The Democratic Party is of the Left or Left center. It has been subject to many internal dissensions. Some of the members of the present Congress were elected as Democrats and some as members of the Democratic Party. A more serious division has since occurred and the Party is now divided into the Democrats, supporting the policies of the Alessandri Government, and the Conventionalist Democrats or Democraticos, opposing the Government.

Leaders Democrats Aquiles Concha (Senator), Fidel Estay (Senator and President of the Party) and Vicente Adrian, Democraticos Virgilio Morales (Senator and former President of the Party) and Juan Pradenas (Senator)

RADICAL SOCIALIST PARTY This party was founded in September, 1931. It has advocated suppression of the right of the clergy to vote, expulsion of foreign religious bodies and the confiscation of their property, the social function of capital, and condemnation of the present system of loans as a social injustice. The Radical Socialist Party is one of the Left group.

Leaders Eliseo Pena Villalon (ex-Cabinet Minister), Guillermo Azócar Alvarez (Senator), Aurelio Nuñez Morgado (ex-Senator and now Ambassador to Spain), Humberto Arellano and Rolando Menno Reyes (Deputies)

SOCIALIST PARTY The party has not clearly defined its aims but advocates the measures to be found in the platform of most socialist parties, such as wide ownership of private enterprises by the Government, minimum wages, old age pensions, etc. It is moderate in the sense of pursuing its aims through peaceful political means.

Leaders Marmaduke Grove (Senator), Hipolito Verdugo (Deputy), Carlos Muller (Deputy) and Hugo Grove (Senator)

COMMUNIST PARTY This party is comparatively recent in origin, it now is a member of the Popular Front. The program is that of the traditional Communist parties but is complicated by the division in its ranks between the adherents of Trotsky and Lenin.

Leaders Manuel Hidalgo (Senator) and Carlos Contreras Labarca

MINOR PARTIES Other parties with their representation in the Chamber of Deputies are Social Republican, led by Enrique Bravo Ortiz (Senator) -2, Agrarian, led by Deputy Braulio Sandoval, 4, AGECH -1, Radical Socialist, led by Juan Rossetti, -4, Independents -5. Among the minor parties without representation in Congress are the Union Republicana of the Center and the Accion Nacional, a new party of the Center, formed in October 1936 and composed largely of elements of the recently disbanded Milicia Republicana, a private armed organization opposed to both Fascism and Socialism.

Population 453 815 235 (1935 Ministry of Interior estimate)

NATIONAL GOVERNMENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF CHINA*

(Inaugurated October 10, 1928)

State Council

The State Council is the highest unit under the system of government provided for by the Organic Law

President of National Government

LIN SEN

Designated as the head of the government and chairman of the State Council The State Council, in addition to the Chairman, consists of from 24 to 36 members

Under the National Government there are, besides the five yüan, several organs such as Comptroller-General's Office, Academia Sinica, National Economic Council, National Military Council, etc

FIVE YÜAN (BRANCHES) OF THE GOVERNMENT

Executive Yüan Gen Chiang Kai-shek (Chairman) assisted in the executive work of the government by nine ministries, viz Interior (Minister, Gen Chiang Tso-pin), Foreign Affairs (Minister, Gen Chang Chun), Military Affairs (Minister, Gen Ho Ying-ch'in), Navy (Minister, Adm Ch'en Shao-k'uan), Finance (Minister, Dr H H Kung), Industries (Minister, Wu Ting chang), Railways (Minister, Chang Kia-ngau), Communications (Acting Minister, Yü Fei-p'eng), Education (Minister, Dr Wang Shih-chieh), and by five subordinate Commissions, viz Anti-Opium, Mongolian and Tibetan Affairs, Overseas Chinese Affairs, Famine Relief and National Reconstruction

Legislative Yüan Sun Fo (Chairman)

Judicial Yüan Chü Cheng (Chairman) Subordinate to the Judicial Yüan are the Ministry of Judicial Administration (Minister, Wang Yung-ping), Supreme Court, Administrative Court, and Commission for Disciplinary Punishment of Officials

Examination Yüan Tai Chi t'ao (Chairman)

Control Yüan Yu Yu jen (Chairman)

* The National Government of the Republic derived its original mandate from the Organic Law promulgated at Nanking on October 4 1928 by the authority of the Kuomintang The Revised Organic Law was promulgated on December 29 1931, and it was again revised by mandate dated December 27 1932 It is by virtue of this basic law that the National Government functions during the period of tutelage of the Chinese people A draft Constitution was published on May 5 1936 The supreme effective control resides in the National Congress of the Kuomintang which exercises its authority over the current processes of government through the medium of the Central Executive Committee, the Central Supervisory Committee and the Central Political Council.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

KUOMINTANG, or NATIONALIST PARTY (National Government) Advocates program supporting the late Dr Sun Yat sen's Three Principles of the People, i.e., Nationalism, Democracy, People's Livelihood, in foreign policy, attempts to maintain China's territorial and administrative integrity, desires revision of so-called "unequal treaties" and abolition of extraterritoriality, in domestic policy, plans reconstruction of internal administration on the basis of a centralized national government with special powers to the provinces under the direction of the central government, carries on program of modernization in economic, educational and other fields, insists upon control of all important policies by the members of the Kuomintang, uses every effort to round up reactionaries and Communists

Leaders The Standing Committee of the Central Executive Committee of the Party consists of Sun Fo, Wang Chung-wei, Yu Yu-jen, Chiang Kai shek (Vice Chairman), Chen Kuo-fu, Ku Meng-yü, Feng Yu hsiang, Yeh Chu tsang, Ting Wei-fen and Chu Cheng See also the personnel of the National Government

MANCHUKUO (Manchuria) Established in 1932 by proclamation as an independent state, organized on lines similar to that of a constitutional monarchy, with Henry P'u Yi as Chief Executive This regime, founded by the Japanese Army, consolidated a de facto control over Manchuria (including Jehol Province) in the face of protracted opposition of the ejected NORTH-EASTERN POLITICAL AFFAIRS COMMITTEE, which had ruled the country prior to the Japanese military occupation in 1931 and was finally liquidated in 1933 following the invasion of Jehol by Japan and resignation of the Committee's leader, Chang Hsueh liang On March 1, 1934, the Chief Executive Henry P'u Yi (last Emperor of the Manchu Dynasty of China) took the title of Emperor under the reign title of Kang Teb The Government is committed to observance of the Open Door (but the establishment of a Petroleum Monopoly in 1935 is regarded by the American and British Governments as a violation of this commitment), equal treatment of races, and Pan-Asiatic solidarity Economically it is moving towards a highly developed form of state capitalism The Japanese have taken a controlling part in its administration and are directing its policies It has not been recognized by China or the other powers, excepting Japan and El Salvador

COMMUNIST PARTY (officially suppressed) Affiliated with the 3d Internationale, in foreign policy, favors an active alliance between China and Soviet Russia for the suppression of imperialism and capitalism, and in the interests of the world revolution, in domestic policy, proposes a Soviet Government and a frankly communistic economic and social program

Leaders Mao Tse tung (Civil Leader), Chu Teh (Chief of military forces in sovietized area remaining under Communist control)

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

Constitutional Government in Cuba was restored with the inauguration of President Gomez on May 20, 1936, after two years and nine months of provisional governments following the overthrow of Machado (August 12, 1933). Elections were held in January, 1936 for President and Vice President, members of Congress, Provincial Governors, Municipal Mayors and the provincial and municipal councils. The elections for President and Vice President and many of the members of Congress were between the three coalition parties on the one hand, and the Conjuncto Nacional Democrático on the other, whose presidential candidate was former President Mario Garcia Menocal. Both the coalition and the Conjuncto Nacional Democrático platforms espoused liberal democratic principles and both promised to work for social and land reforms, the development of industry along nationalistic lines and a liberal policy toward labor. President Gomez was impeached by Parliament in December, 1936.

The Republic is governed under the (1935) Constitutional Law enacted by the Provisional Government, but a Constituent Assembly is scheduled to be held at an early date.

nance), José A. Casas (Minister of Public Works), Amadeo Lopez (Minister of Agriculture), Raul Zarraga (Minister of Commerce), Dr Juan M Portuondo (Minister of Labor), Dr Fernando Sirgo (Minister of Education), Dr Zenon Zamara (Minister of Public Health and Charities), Melani Diaz (Minister of Communications), Dr Juan J Remos (Minister of National Defense) and Enrique Bringuier (Minister of the Presidency)

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY: Represents mainly industrial laborers; has always been closely connected with trade unions and consumers' cooperative movement, and derives one-third of its strength from farm workers and small landholders in country districts. In foreign policy, favors the League of Nations, international arbitration, and universal disarmament. In domestic policy, advocates a constitutional socialist program for government control of industry and trade, progressive taxation of wealth, industrial councils, protection of labor, and limitation of working day to eight hours, unemployment benefits and medical and legal aid to workers, parceling out of big estates and public leasing to small holders, universal direct suffrage for men and women over 21, and abolition of the Upper Chamber of Parliament.

Leaders Th A M Stauning (Premier), H P Hansen (Minister of Finance), K K. Steincke (Minister of Justice), Hartvig Frisch (formerly Speaker of Lower Chamber), Alsing Andersen (Minister of Defense), N Fisker (Minister of Public Works) and J Kjaerboel (Minister of Trade)

LIBERAL PARTY Usually called "Left Party", represents mainly farmers, landowners, and business and professional groups in the country. In foreign policy, favors cooperation with the League and arbitration of international disputes. In domestic policy, favors a defense system based on compulsory enlistment sufficient to assure neutrality and the discharge of League obligations, stands for monarchy, maintenance of state church, religious teaching in primary schools and state subsidy to private schools, present Constitution and bicameral system, free trade under ad valorem tariff for revenue only, individualism as against socialism in industry and business, government taxation on real property, reduction of taxation by strict economy especially in social expenditures and state aid to small purchasers in acquiring farms as freeholders.

Leaders H Hauch (Member of Upper Chamber), I P Stensballe (formerly Minister of Public Works) and S Brorsen (formerly Minister of Defense)

CONSERVATIVE PARTY Represents financial, industrial, and business constituency of cities, and landowners. In foreign policy, moderately nationalistic. In domestic policy, resists reduction of army and navy and favors a defense plan based on compulsory enlistment, defends the state church and Christian instruction in public schools, stands for protection of private property, protective tariff duties to aid industry, sound fiscal policies, lower taxation, and compulsory social insurance, opposes taxation on land values, parcelling out of large estates, and prohibition.

Leaders Christmas Moller, P Korsgaard and V Pursehel (Lower Chamber), and Axel B Lange (Upper Chamber)

RADICAL PARTY Also called "The Radical Left Party", represents mainly small property owners and landholders, and certain intellectual and professional circles in the towns. In foreign policy, favors obligatory arbitration, League of Nations, and disarmament. In domestic policy, advocates abolition of the Upper Chamber, abolition of compulsory military service, stands for religious freedom, seeks cooperation with Social Democratic Party in fundamental democratic reforms, such as protection of consumers against monopolies, state aid in purchase of land by small holders and public leasing, and development of small enterprises in industry and trade, favors free trade, reduction of indirect taxes on necessities and high direct income and property taxation for social purposes, and profit sharing.

Leaders C Th Zahle (formerly Premier), P Manch (Minister of Foreign Affairs), Bertel Dahlgaard (Minister of Home Affairs), A M Hansen and Jørgen Jørgensen (Minister of Education)

JUSTICE LEAGUE Advocates Henry George doctrine of single tax on land, anti-socialistic, favors abolition of compulsory military service, separation of church and state, free trade, reduction of parliamentary representation with voting power for each representative proportionate to vote received, freedom of education and religion.

Leader Hans Hansen

FREE PEOPLE'S PARTY Organized in 1934 by split in the Liberal Party, defends agrarian interests.

Leader V. Thomsen

COMMUNIST PARTY Accepts program of 3d International. Represented in Parliament for first time in 1952.

Leader Axel Larsen.

SLESVIG PARTY Represents the German factors in the part of Slesvig ceded to Denmark by plebiscite. The principal point of its program is a revision of the present border between Denmark and Germany.

Leader J. Schmidt.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

The coup d'état of 1925 resulted in military control of the government, Congress was suspended. In 1928 Provisional President Ayora authorized a return to the constitutional regime and convoked a National Constituent Assembly which adopted a new Constitution, and reelected Dr. Ayora President. The dissension between the Executive and Legislative Branches which has been chronic since 1929, culminated on August 20, 1935, when President Velasco Ibarra dissolved Congress, annulled the 1929 Constitution, and convoked a Constituent Assembly. In effect, he made himself dictator for the period necessary to convoke the Assembly and to amend the fundamental document. However, the armed forces immediately voiced their objection and arrested the President. Congress resumed its duties, accepted his resignation and constitutionally invested his Minister of Government, Dr. Antonio Pons, as Acting President. Presidential elections were called for October 13 and 14. It soon developed that the irremediable split in the parties of the Center and Left would result in a certain victory for the Conservative candidate. It was realized, moreover, that the outcome of the elections would contribute no permanent remedy for Ecuador's political ills, and that the inadequacies of the 1929 Constitution, which are the underlying cause of political instability, could not be corrected by constitutional means. Accordingly, on September 26, 1935, Dr. Pons accepted the resignation of his entire Cabinet and then resigned himself. The armed forces accepted the resignation and took over the Government, delegating the power to Señor Federico Páez. The latter took office the same day as Supreme Chief of the Republic. Congress was dissolved and the 1906 Constitution was declared in force in so far as it does not conflict with social, administrative and other reforms contemplated. It has been announced that a Constituent Assembly will be convoked after the reform program has been consummated. During 1936 a new constitution was drafted by a commission appointed by the government. It has not yet been decided whether to submit it to a plebiscite of the people or for discussion and approval by a Constituent Assembly

LIBERAL RADICAL PARTY Advocates complete economic reconstruction through revision of tax laws by emphasis on national rehabilitation rather than on increasing the national revenue, establishment of a monetary system, savings banks, and consumers' cooperatives, proportional taxation on the earnings of capital and a progressive inheritance tax, establishment of a technical organization to study the development of agriculture, partition of uncultivated lands, establishment of a system of roads, protective tariff, a national mercantile marine, prompt enactment of laws for the welfare and security of workers, foundation of a Bureau of Labor and Labor Statistics, and recognition of the right to strike, educational reconstruction through the formation of primary and night schools, popular universities, schools of arts and crafts, and public libraries, obligatory school attendance to the age of 14 years, reform of the penal system, including creation of correctional institutions and indemnity for those detained or condemned unjustly, prohibition, suppression of gambling, obligatory military service, rehabilitation of the native race, and autonomy of municipalities and universities

Leaders Dr Carlos Arroyo del Rio (President of Party), Dr Aurelio Mosquera Narváez and J Modesto Larrea Jijon

CONSERVATIVE PARTY Advocates social reforms for improving the condition of the people, recognition of the legal jurisdiction of the Catholic Church, and tolerance of other religions not inimical to public order and morals, universal and compulsory suffrage, establishment of Catholic schools for all children whose parents do not definitely oppose it, personal liberty, including the right of habeas corpus, freedom of the press, except for immoral, unpatriotic, or anarchistic utterances, legislation for reorganizing and improving the conditions of labor, and establishing procedures to regulate and eliminate strikes, protection of agriculture through increased instruction, agricultural coöperatives, and laws in regard to irrigation, organization of national production, with a study of the methods of utilizing mineral resources and sources of hydraulic power, severe economy in the management of public revenues, general revision of tax schedules and protection of national industries, increase in road building, autonomy of municipalities, compulsory military service, reform of penal laws, cultivation of friendly relations with the Holy See and with foreign states, and promotion of solidarity in Hispanic-American relations

Leaders Manuel Sotomayor y Luna (Presidential Candidate in 1932), Jacinto Jijon Caamaño and Dr Alejandro Ponce Borja (Presidential Candidate in 1935)

VELASQUISTAS This group which is composed of supporters of former President Velasco is made up of both Liberals and Conservatives

Leader José María Velasco Ibarra (formerly President of the Republic)

SOCIALIST PARTY Advocates a conventional Socialist program modified to meet economic and social conditions prevailing in Ecuador

Leaders Dr Luis Felipe Chavez, Colon Serrano and Carlos Zambrano

*Two-fifths of the Senators are nominated by the Crown and three-fifths are elected. All are elected for five-year terms.

On December 12, 1935, King Fuad I who died on April 28, 1936, signed a royal decree restoring the 1923 Constitution as of the Assembly of Parliament which occurred on May 10, 1936. The decision of the King was taken three days subsequent to the formation of a United Front of all parties, with the exception of the negligible Watanist or extreme Nationalist party, under the leadership of Nahas Pasha, President of the Wafd Party.

On the same day that the restoration of the 1923 Constitution was decreed, the United Front presented to the British High Commissioner a request to be transmitted to the British Government for the opening of negotiations for an Anglo-Egyptian Treaty. Following acceptance on January 20, 1936, under the conditions, inter alia, that consideration should be given first to military questions and the Sudan which had given the most difficulty on the occasion of the abortive negotiations of 1930, formal negotiations were entered upon in Cairo on March 2, 1936, between representatives of Great Britain and Egypt. The Egyptian Treaty Delegation included, in accordance with a condition laid down by Great Britain, not only representatives of the majority party, the Wafd, who numbered seven of the thirteen delegates but also of representatives of other political parties. These last included the Shaab party, represented by its leader and a former Prime Minister, Sidky Pasha, the Liberal Constitutional Party, represented by Mohamed Mahmoud Pasha, the Dissident Wafdist by Aly Shamsi Pasha, the Ittehadist Party by Helmy Issa Pasha, and two independent notables, the delegation being presided over by Nahas Pasha, President of both the Wafd and the United Front.

The Treaty signed in London on August 26, 1936, and ratified in Cairo on November 14, 1936, contains most notably the following provisions:

1 Establishment of an alliance between the two countries with all necessary facilities and assistance given by Egypt to Great Britain in case of war, including the use of Egyptian ports, aerodromes and means of communication, as well as the establishment of martial law and an effective censorship,

2 Membership of Egypt in the League of Nations,

3 Exchange of Ambassadors between the two countries with precedence always given to the British Ambassador in Cairo,

4 Removal of British military forces stationed in Egypt since 1882 from Cairo, Alexandria and other parts of Egypt and their concentration in a specified zone at the northern end of the Suez Canal. The removal and concentration of British forces in Egypt which, in peace time, are not to exceed 10,000 land forces, and 400 pilots, with necessary ancillary personnel, will be effected upon the completion of accommodations to be erected for them in the vicinity of the Canal and upon the construction of certain specified strategic roads and railways, the forces in or near Alexandria being accorded the right of remaining at that locality for a maximum period of eight years. Cost of construction of the strategic roads and railways devolves upon Egypt but Great Britain meets one fourth of the cost of construction of accommodations for its troops with the addition of a sum of some £500,000.

5 As regards the Sudan the situation reverts to the status quo ante 1924, in which year various limitations were imposed upon Egypt's rights in the Sudan following the murder in Cairo of the Governor General of the Sudan and Sirdar of the Egyptian Army, Sir Lee Stack. Both Governments recognize the provisions of the Conventions establishing the condominium of 1899 while Egypt is accorded the right of unrestricted Egyptian immigration into the Sudan, and the right of enjoying generally under the British Governor General the same rights and privileges enjoyed by the British.

6 Great Britain promises its collaboration and support in the fulfillment of Egypt's desire to abolish the Capitulatory regime in Egypt and to make arrangements in agreement with the twelve Capitulatory Powers, of whom the United States is one, for the eventual merging of the Mixed Courts with the Native Courts. Hitherto under the Capitulatory regime the Capitulatory Powers have possessed a right of veto over Egyptian projects for direct taxation, while the regime generally has given the Capitulatory Powers extra territorial rights in respect of their nationals. The International Capitulations Conference comprising delegates from the Capitulatory Powers in Egypt is expected to meet early in 1937 with representatives of the Egyptian Government to consider the reforms proposed.

7 As protection of the lives and property of foreigners is henceforth to devolve upon Egypt, the right is accorded Egypt of terminating the work of the European Department in the Ministry of the Interior, as well as the offices of the Judicial and Financial Advisers

8 The Treaty is subject to revision after twenty years at the request of either Party, and after ten years with the consent of both Parties, but it is expressly stipulated that the alliance will continue even after any revision

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

Political parties in Egypt have developed since the war out of differences over the relationship of the party towards Great Britain, the Palace and the Demos — the three main forces in Egyptian political life — or out of purely personal considerations of party leaders desirous of power. Inasmuch as the relationship of Egypt towards Great Britain has finally been defined in a Treaty supported by all parties with the single exception of the Watanists, and since the strong dominating position of the Palace has been removed with the death of King Fuad, Egyptian parties are faced with a redefinition of their programs which are unlikely to be clearly established for perhaps another year or until the present transition period has passed

WAFD PARTY Founded in 1919 by Zaglul Pasha, Egypt's leading modern statesman, incident to the recrudescence of the nationalist movement after the War. It is representative of nationalist aspirations and is supported by the great body of Egyptians. With the signature of the Anglo-Egyptian Treaty of 1936 it has pledged itself to the fulfilment of the provisions of that Treaty and has announced as one of its major objectives, the improvement of the lot of the Egyptian peasant

Leaders Mustapha Nahas Pasha (President of Party, Premier), Makram Ebeid Pasha (Minister of Finance), Mahmud Fahmy el Nokrachy Pasha (Minister of Communications), Dr. Ahmed Maher, Wassef Pasha Ghali (Minister of Foreign Affairs), Mahmud Bey Ghaleb (Minister of Justice), Osman Pasha Moharrem (Minister of Public Works), Hamdi Bey Seif El Nasr (Minister of Agriculture), Mohamed Pasha Safwat (Minister of Wakfs), Abdel Salaam Fahmy Bey Gomaa (Minister of Commerce), Ali Zaki Bey Arabi (Minister of Education) and El Lewa Ali Pasha Fahmy (Minister of War)

LIBERAL CONSTITUTIONAL PARTY Supported by upper classes and intellectuals. In general pursues a policy of moderation.

Leaders Mohamed Mahmoud Pasha (President of Party, formerly Premier), Mahmoud Abdel Razek Pasha, Gaafar Wali Pasha (formerly Minister of War) and Ahmed Khashaba Pasha (formerly Minister of Communications)

POPULAR PARTY (SHAAB) Organized in December, 1930, by Sidky Pasha. Composed of wealthy citizens, discontented Liberal Constitutionalists and politicians. Supported the 1930 Constitution which accorded greater power to the Crown than the Constitution of 1923.

Leader Ismail Sidky Pasha (formerly Premier)

UNIONIST PARTY (ITTEHAD) Pro-Palace, composed of former Constitutionalists or Wafd Party members. Has the same policy as the Liberal Constitutional Party, but has made an issue of loyalty to the Egyptian crown and was distinguished, like the Shaab Party, by its support of the 1930 Constitution.

Leaders Hilmy Issa Pasha (President of the Party, formerly Minister of Education) and Ahmed Aly Pasha (formerly Minister of Justice)

NATIONAL PARTY (WATANI) Oldest and most extreme party, opposes all negotiation with Great Britain until her troops are withdrawn. Advocates complete independence of Egypt and the Sudan and the cession of such regions as Berber and Zeila on the Red Sea. Party now has very few supporters.

Leaders: Hafez Ramadan Bey (President of Party), Abdel Hamid Bey Said and Abdel Rahman El-Rafei.

DISSIDENT WAFD PARTY Was formed in the autumn of 1932, by a number of the less extreme Wafdists, dissatisfied with what they alleged to be the intransigent, impractical policy of Nahas Pasha. The Party refused generally to make its participation in a Cabinet contingent, as did the Wafd, upon the restoration of the Constitution of 1923 and of the old electoral law, while contemplating the revision of the Constitution of 1930 after new elections. Members have now largely returned to Wafd camp.

Leaders: Aly el Shamsy Pasha, Hamad el Bassil Pasha and Baheidin Barakat Bey.

(Riigikogu)

Election of Mar 21-23, 1932

President, RUDOLF PÄRSO (Swedish)

Number of Members

107

The State Assembly was convened on October 2, 1934. It has not, however, been dissolved. Its officers and its prerogatives still continue to function.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

On March 12, 1934, the Acting Premier promulgated decrees abolishing a Fascist War Veteran movement and introducing martial law in the entire country; he also appointed General Johan Laidoner as Commander in-Chief of the Estonian armed forces. Since that date the country has been under the authoritarian rule of the above-mentioned leaders advised by the Cabinet which was then in office.

The new regime disbanded the War Veterans movement and removed all former members and supporters thereof from positions in government, military, police, police, municipal, and local self-government institutions. It disbanded the Parliament, abolished political parties, and placed the press under control. Public meetings and processions were prohibited except with the consent of the Government.

A plebiscite held in February, 1935, gave an almost unanimous vote in favor of a government proposal for constitutional reform. Thereby the Government was authorized to call elections for the selection of members of a bicameral National Assembly to revise the Constitution. The 50 members of the first chamber of the National Assembly were selected in elections held in December, 1935. The second chamber is composed of 40 members, 20 selected from government, military, educational and religious institutions, and from occupational and professional organizations or the cooperative type which have been established in the past two years under the direction of the authoritarian leaders, and 10 appointed by the Acting President of Estonia

The National Assembly is scheduled to convene in February, 1937. It will draft a new Constitution or revise the present Constitution, using as a basis a draft prepared by the Government. The form of the future Estonian State system will depend upon the outcome of the work of the above mentioned National Assembly

The activities of the Estonian political parties were discontinued by Government decree on March 20, 1935. On February 22, 1935 a so-called Patriotic League of Estonia (Isamaaluts) was established on the basis of a decision issued by the Minister of the Interior. The Patriotic League seems to represent an attempt on the part of the Government to form a political organization for that part of the population which is in sympathy with the present regime. The League played an important role in the plebiscite in February, 1936, and in the National Assembly first chamber elections in December, 1936

Parties and Leaders under last Parliamentary regime

AGRARIAN PARTY Represented, generally, interests of farmers and land-owners, the most conservative Party in the Estonian State Assembly, favored moderate social and democratic reforms, such as provision of land to landless classes from state reserves

Leaders Konstantin Pats (Acting President and Prime Minister, Honorary Chairman of Party) and August Jurman (Chairman of Party)

SETTLERS PARTY Represented the interests of peasants who had received land from the state under the Agrarian Reform of 1919

Leaders Oskar Koster (formerly Minister of Agriculture, Chairman of Party), Rudolf Penno (President of the State Assembly), Jakob Loosalu (Secretary of the State Assembly), Johannes Soster and Johannes Zimmermann (formerly Minister of Economic Affairs)

NATIONAL CENTER PARTY Formed by fusion of the former Populist, Labor, Christian Nationalist and House Owners Parties, consisted of the four above mentioned groups, Populist group represented business and professional circles in the towns, Labor group represented non socialist working class and radical intellectual circles, Christian Nationalist group represented the church, House Owners group represented the interests of city holders of property

Leaders Jaan Tonisson (formerly Head of State, formerly President of the State Assembly, Chairman of Party) and Jaan Lattik (formerly Minister of Education, Party leader in State Assembly)

SOCIALIST PARTY Represented working class interests and trade unions, had a moderate constitutional program for state socialization of industry and trade, affiliated with 2nd Internationale.

Leaders August Rei (formerly Head of State, Chairman of Party and Party leader in State Assembly), Leopold Johanson (Vice President of State Assembly) and Oskar Gustavson

RUSSIAN PARTY Represented the interests of the Russian minority
Leader Ivan Gorshkov (Member of State Assembly)

GERMAN SWEDISH BLOC Represented nationalist and cultural interests of German and Swedish minorities

Leaders German: Carl Schilling, Swedish: Mathias Vesterblom

RADICAL LABOR PARTY Represented most radical socialist views in the country, favored 3rd Internationale.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

The political "groups" in the French Parliament are not considered as regular organizations. Nevertheless the rules do not overlook their de facto existence and appointment to Committees is made according to proportional representation.

Most French parliamentary groups do not exactly represent true parties, with funds and organization. The usual basis for the formation of a group is the enrollment in the Chamber of at least 14 members, the number necessary to secure appointments to important committees. Smaller groups are insured proportional representation on the committees, since their votes are pooled with the remainders of the larger groups (after division by 14), in order to nominate the last few members of each committee. The names of groups are not the same in the Senate and Chamber of Deputies, nor do they correspond to organized parties in the country at large. Organized parties able to command effective groups in the Chamber are the Radical and Radical Socialist Party, the Socialist Party, and the Republican Federation. The Communist Party has maintained its group in the Chamber, though unable to secure seats in all committees. There is also a recently formed group, the Socialist and Republican Union, corresponding to a new party. It includes the "independent" or "dissenting" Socialists, French Socialists and Socialists of France. Other groups are built around several parties or around individual leaders. Deputies belonging to no group are called "isolated." If they wish assignment to committees they must make a "declaration of understanding" with one of the existing groups. Those who remain "isolated" do not sit on any committee.

In addition to the parliamentary groups and the parties, there are two more or less compact coalitions uniting various groups and parties for common action: the Popular Front which came into power after the April-May 1936 elections, comprising in the Senate the groups of the Democratic Left and the Socialists and in the Chamber part of the Radicals and Radical Socialists, Socialists, Republican Union and the Communists. Other new groups, which did not exist in the former legislature, but which cannot be considered exactly as forming a part of the Popular Front, but are included in the majority, are in the Chamber, Independent Left (Camille Pelletan Party, the Frontist Party, the Party of Proletarian Unity, and the Party of the Young Republic).

As opposed to the majority, the Opposition is comprised in the Senate by the Republican Union, the Republican Left, and the Democratic and Radical Union, all of which existed in the former legislature, and in the Chamber, by the Republican Federation, the Popular Democrats and a part of the Radical and Radical Socialists, which existed in the former legislature, and the following new parties born of the April-May 1936 elections: Democratic Left and Independent Radical group, Independent Republicans, Independent Republicans of Social Action and Independent Agrarian group, Independent Popular Action, Independents of the Republican and National Union, and the Alliance of Left Republicans and Independent Radicals. These coalitions play in Parliament a role similar to that of the organized parties in the United States or Great Britain, and on them the Premiers and Cabinets rely for support.

The general programs of parties at large comprising the coalitions are

LEFT

RADICAL AND RADICAL SOCIALIST PARTY One of the largest parties in France, often able to hold power or control governments, organized nationally, with department federations, evolutionary in policy and intermediary between the conservative parties upholding the present order of society and the socialist parties desiring to establish a new economic and social order, represents mainly small farmers and retail merchants and officials of all degrees. Its influence in recent years has shown a steady tendency towards decline, owing to the failure of its leaders to compromise with neighboring groups in Parliament, the result has been added strength for the Moderate Republicans on the one hand, and the Socialists on the other. It is opportunist in alliances with other parties and groups. In foreign policy, favors the League of Nations, reparations agreement, Locarno treaties and trade treaty with Russia, and progressive disarmament. In domestic policy, advocates reduction of standing army and military expenditure, priority of the Chamber over the Senate, democratization of Senatorial elections, extension of communal liberties, also favors rights of public employees to union organization, social reforms (short of complete state socialism) such as nationalization of large public utilities (excepting railways) and participation of technicians and consumers in their management, advocates income, property, and business taxes and state monopolies, and opposes indirect taxes on articles of consumption, favors laws protecting labor, such as paid vacations for all workers, reenforced labor inspection, and a weekly day of rest for all employees, reform measures, such as obligatory social insurance, and progressive movements such as consumers' cooperation. This party, which brought about the separation of Church and State in 1905, has opposed diplomatic relations with the Vatican, and favors reinforcement of secular education by the creation of a single school system.

Corresponds to Chamber group of Radicals and Radical Socialists and part of Senate group of Left Democrats

Leaders Edouard Herriot (Speaker of the Chamber, Deputy, formerly Premier), Senators — Marcel Regnier (formerly Minister of Finance), Henry Roy (formerly Minister of Public Works), Joseph Caillaux (formerly Premier and Minister of Finance), Th. Steeg (formerly Premier and Minister of Colonies), Albert Sarraut (formerly Premier), Rene Besnard (formerly Minister of Labor), C. Chautemps (Minister of State without Portfolio), Rene Renoult (formerly Minister of Justice), Maurice Viollette (Minister of State without Portfolio) and Gasnier-Duparc (Minister of the Navy) Deputies — Yvon Delbos (Minister of Foreign Affairs), Louis J. Malvy (formerly Minister of Interior), Joseph Paganon (formerly Minister of Interior), L. Lamoureux (formerly Minister of Commerce), Pierre Cot (Minister of Air), J. Mistler (formerly Minister of Education), G. Bonnet (formerly Minister of Commerce), Edouard Daladier (Vice Premier and Minister of National Defense and War), François de Tesson (Under-Secretary of State), Marc Rucart (Minister of Justice), Jean Zay (Minister of National Education) and Paul Bastid (Minister of Commerce)

SOCIALIST PARTY Adherent of 2d Internationale, associated with General Labor Confederation under Leon Jouhaux, affiliated with Labor and Socialist Internationale founded in 1905 by combining several socialist parties, faithful to reformatory doctrine of Jaures, advocates a moderate constitutional program of Marxian Socialism but opposes Communism, adheres to democratic and syndicalist methods. In foreign policy, favors international cooperation but recognizes principle of national defense, supports League of Nations, International Labor Organization, and Locarno treaties, favors good relations with Russia, criticizes alleged excesses of peace treaties, while defending rights of small nations under them, advocates reduction of term of compulsory military service and a military system, opposes budget for maintenance of present forces In domestic policy, advocates suppression of Senate, favors extension of free compulsory secular education, opposes foreign loans, raising of customs tariffs, and indirect or consumption taxes, and advocates economy in administration, and increased direct taxes, especially on large fortunes, urges nationalization of large industries, such as railways, extension of state monopolies, favors an agrarian policy in the interest of farm workers and small landowners and tenants, favors right of public employees to organize, and laws to protect labor, also social insurance and increased salaries and pensions to public servants There is a temporary fusion between the Socialists and Communists under the name of "Front Commun," but it does not affect their respective policies

Leaders Deputies — Leon Blum (Premier), Vincent Auriol (Minister of Finance), Marx Dormoy (Minister of the Interior), F. Blanche (Under-Secretary of State for the Navy), Marius Moutet (Minister of Colonies), Albert Riviere (Minister of Pensions), Charles Spinasse (Minister of National Economy), Albert Bedouce (Minister of Public Works), Georges Monnet (Minister of Agriculture), J. B. Lebas (Minister of Labor) and M. Jardillier (Minister of Posts and Telegraph) Senators — Morizet, Betoulle, and Henry Sellier (Minister of Public Health) Outside Parliament — M. Zyromski and Paul Faure (Minister of State without Portfolio)

SOCIALIST AND REPUBLICAN UNION A new party in the Chamber, not yet organized nationally Composed of elements of the Socialists, French Socialists, Republican Socialists, Socialists of France and Independents Opportunistic in policy Lies between the Radicals and Socialists, approaching the latter in theory and the former in practical politics In foreign policy favors the League of Nations and a close understanding with Germany In domestic policy favors extension of state monopolies in order to attain a moderate degree of socialism

COMMUNIST PARTY The French section of the 3d Internationale, formed by split from Socialists in 1920, well organized with local sections, a federation in each department, and a national administration, advocates full revolutionary program inspired by Moscow organization, active among "red" trade unions and government employees In foreign policy, aims to embarrass the Government, particularly as regards military and colonial policies

Leaders Senator — Marcel Cachin Deputies — Jean Duclos, Renaud Jean, Peri, Thorez, Andre Marty and Vaillant Couturier

OPPOSITION

REPUBLICAN FEDERATION In foreign policy, it stands for strict execution of the treaties and security of frontiers, and favors diplomatic relations with the Vatican In domestic policy, it opposes the radicals in religious questions, but favors freedom of religious belief, opposes income and business taxes, and revision of taxes bearing on moneyed classes, opposes state monopolies, government supervision of commerce and industry, and idea of class struggle, moderately decentralist.

Leaders Senator — Louis Linyer Deputies — Louis Marin (formerly Minister of State without portfolio), Camille Blaisot (formerly Under-Secretary of State), Xavier Vallat and Taittinger

DEMOCRATIC ALLIANCE Organized in 1920 and reorganized in 1936, on the basis of the Republican-Democratic Alliance founded by Carnot in 1901, represents industrial and commercial middle class, advocates secularism in state organization and education, and economic liberty. In foreign policy, favors resolute attitude toward Germany, and is hostile to relations with Russia, advocates cordial diplomatic relations with the Vatican. In domestic policy, favors secularism with religious freedom, antisocialist, opposes strikes, especially in public services, advocates moderate decentralization of administration, liberal in economic theory, favors a program of social reform, stopping short of collectivist measures, accepts income and business taxes. Corresponds, in Chamber to the Alliance of Left Republicans and Independent Radicals, and in the Senate, to Republican Union, and Democratic and Radical Union.

ROYALISTS

L'ACTION FRANÇAISE Composed of extreme nationalists and anti-republicans, has no representation in Parliament but is solidly organized, agitates in favor of hereditary monarchy, anti-parliamentarian and decentralist, for restoration of Catholic Church as preserver of order and authority, but on bad terms with the Vatican, anti-Semitic and anti-foreign, for supremacy of State.

Leaders Outside Parliament — Charles Maurras and Leon Dauterle.

CONSTITUTIONAL MONARCHISTS A few Royalists of parliamentary type, and Plebiscitaires, partisans of a monarchy based on a plebiscite. Represented in Parliament by a few deputies belonging to no group and senators in Right group.

PARLIAMENTARY GROUPS

COMPOSÉ OF DEPUTIES

RADICAL AND RADICAL SOCIALIST (See party list, page 69)

SOCIALIST PARTY (See party list, page 70)

SOCIALIST AND REPUBLICAN UNION (See party list, page 71)

COMMUNIST (See party list, page 71)

REPUBLICAN FEDERATION (See page 71) Conservative group gaining support among western non-royalist aristocrats and leaders of industry and finance, many members in Parliament identified with Republican National Alliance, National Catholic Federation, and Republican Federation, representing Union of Economic Interests, and big industrialists including the Comité des Forges, forms chief elements of the Right Center, among Liberal Populaire League (Catholics accepting republican regime) and other elements whose practical views outweigh religious views, and opponents of state monopolies and radicalism. In foreign policy, stands for strict application of peace treaties, supported Poincaré in Ruhr occupation, opposed reparations agreement, considers disarmament now impossible, and advocates defensive military and political alliances. In domestic policy, advocates increase of army and navy, reestablishment of the churches and restoration of Church property, freedom of religious instruction, and larger powers for President, opposes extremist labor organization and eight-hour law and similar industrial legislation, individualist in economic theory, advocating free play of supply and demand Corresponds largely to Republican Union group in Senate

Leaders Louis Marin (former Minister of State without Portfolio), Blaisot, (former Under-Secretary of State), Taittinger, Edouard Soulier and Xavier Vallat

POPULAR DEMOCRATIC A Right Center group, resulting from fusion of remnants of old Catholic liberal factions, represents most advanced thought of clericals in progressive economic and social reform, but stopping short of Socialism, favors reestablishment of Church and strong paternal government, does not include Royalists or Fascists Corresponds to no well-defined group in Senate, but sympathizes with Republican Union

Leader Paul Simon (floor leader) and Reille-Soult

New groups born of the 1936 elections

FRONTIST PARTY Composed of extreme Left Radicals, founded by M Bergery with the name of the Social Front Very advanced, but hostile to the Communists A group of the majority, attached to the Independent Left Has only two representatives in the Chamber

PARTY OF THE YOUNG REPUBLIC Composed of Christian Socialists adhering to the Popular Front such as M Philippe Serre Has only four representatives in the Chamber, attached to the Independent Left A group of the majority

INDEPENDENT REPUBLICANS An opposition group founded by M Georges Mandel, and including MM Chiappe, Fernand-Laurent, Ybarnegaray and Scapini Also comprises the National Republicans, the former Croix de Feu, etc This group has 15 representatives in the Chamber

INDEPENDENT REPUBLICANS OF SOCIAL ACTION AND INDEPENDENT AGRARIAN GROUP An opposition group, formed of former elements of the Right Center group formerly known as the Republican and Social group of M Georges Pernot, the former Center Republican group of M Andre Tardieu in the preceding legislature, added to which are certain young and independent elements with a Croix de Feu tendency The section of this group called the Independent Republicans of Social Action have as their leader M Marcel

HERAUD. That section comprising the Independent Agrarian Group are dissidents from M. Dorgeres' agrarian movement, and has at its head M. Mathé.

INDEPENDENT POPULAR ACTION. A small group composed of elements of the new Alsatian Party called the Republican Popular Union, and Socialist Christians. This party has a regional tendency, like its leader M. Michel Walter. An opposition party.

INDEPENDENTS OF THE REPUBLICAN AND NATIONAL UNION. An opposition party, composed of dissidents from the Republican Federation and certain Right independents. It has only five representatives in the Chamber, at whose head is M. Dommenge.

ALLIANCE OF LEFT REPUBLICANS AND INDEPENDENTS RADICALS. An opposition group, headed by M. Pierre-Etienne Flandin, which corresponds to the Left Republican group in the former legislature.

NO GROUP. Margueret (formerly Minister of Labor), Fernand Boulsson (formerly speaker of Lower Chamber), and Dorot (formerly active Communist, now leader of a new extra-parliamentary group called the French Popular Party).

Senate

(Plays a moderating rôle; partisan politics in its debates traditionally are less bitter than in the Chamber; groups more lasting because the Senate is selected by thirds and groups maintain discipline while having no formal program)

DEMOCRATIC LEFT. Name used for Democratic, Radical and Radical-Socialist Left group. Constitutes almost half of the Senate, corresponding to the Chamber Radical, and Radical-Socialist group.

Leaders: Camille Chauvemp (Minister of State without Portfolio), Maurice Viollette (Minister of State without Portfolio), Alphonse Garnier-Duparc (Minister of the Navy), Theodore Steeg (formerly Premier and Minister of Colonies), Lucien Hubert (formerly Vice-President of Council and Minister of Justice), M. Area 181,699 square miles (land area)

Population 66,030,000 (1935 estimate)

Fuehrer and Chancellor

ADOLPH HITLER (National Socialist)

Cabinet

National Socialist and Nonpartisan

Appointed January 30, 1933

PARLIAMENT

(Reichstag)

Election of November 12, 1933

President HERMANN W. GOERING (National Socialist)

Number of members . . . 740

There was a general election in Germany on November 12, 1933, after the Government's withdrawal from the League of Nations, to vote on two questions (1) Whether the voters endorsed as their own the policy of the Hitler government, (2) Whether they would vote for the National Socialist list of candidates — the only list put before them — for new members of the Reichstag. On question (1), 93.4 percent and on question (2), 92.2 percent of the votes cast were affirmative.

There was another general election on March 29, 1936, after the remilitarization of the Rhineland. The only names on the ballot were those of the Nazi list, and there were no other candidates. The official list polled 98.8% of the votes cast (44,461,278, or 99% of persons entitled to vote). The Chancellor and other spokesmen for the regime said that the balloting constituted a vote of confidence not only for remilitarization of the Rhineland, but also in general.

After the death of President von Hindenburg on August 2, 1934, Chancellor Adolf Hitler added the functions of President to that of Chancellor and incorporated the two offices in the title Fuehrer und Reichskanzler. This act was subsequently submitted to the German people in a plebiscite held on August 19, 1934. The vote was as follows: "Yes" 38,363,195, (88.1 percent of votes cast), "No" 4,294,727, (9.8 percent of votes cast), invalid 872,310, (2 percent of votes cast).

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

NATIONAL SOCIALIST PARTY (Nazis) The only legal party, the political backbone of the state. The Chancellor is the party leader. The National Socialist Militia (the Sturm Abteilung [SA or "brown shirts"] and the Schutz Staffel [SS or special guards]) is an integral part of the party organization. In domestic policy the party stands for a strongly centralized and unified German Reich. Power and responsibility lie with the Leader. Parliament, by the act of March 24, 1933, delegated its legislative power to the Government for a period of four years. It now has nominal consultative functions only. The National Socialist state is based on the concept of racial purity, non Aryans, with minor exceptions, cannot be members of the civil service or serve as journalists, and the number of them in the professions is limited. The economic system is being reformed giving wide powers to employers and government labor authorities. Trade unions and employers unions have been replaced by the Deutsche Arbeitsfront, a national organization which already includes a large percentage of laborers and employees and which is intended ultimately to include all employers as well. In foreign policy the Party, before coming into power, advocated an aggressive, nationalistic policy, demanding particularly the abolition of the Versailles Treaty, equality of armaments, and the eventual union of all Germanic peoples in the German State. Today the party defines its policy as one of "peace in honor and equal rights."

Leaders Adolf Hitler (Leader of Party, Chancellor), Rudolf Hess (Deputy Leader of Party, Minister without Portfolio), Joseph Goebbels (Federal Minister of Public Enlightenment and Propaganda), Hermann W. Goering (Premier of Prussia, Minister of Aeronautics), Dr. Wilhelm Frick (Federal Minister of the Interior), Dr. Bernhard Rust (Federal Minister of Science, Education and Public Instruction), R. Walther Darré (Federal Minister of Agriculture), Franz Seldte (Minister of Labor), Dr. Franz Guertner (Minister of Justice), Baron Kuno von Eltz-Ruebenach (Minister of Transportation), Hans Kerrl (Minister for Church Affairs), Dr. Hans Frank (Minister without Portfolio), Dr. Robert Ley (Councillor of State, Organisatory Leader of the National Socialist Party and Leader of the Labor Front), Heinrich Himmler (Leader of the SS and of the State Police), Baldur von Schirach (Leader of the Hitler Youth Organization), Alfred Rosenberg (Head of Party Foreign Political Organization) and Victor Lutze (Leader of the SA).

Others working with present regime Franz von Papen (Minister Extraordinary, sent on special mission to Austria, one of the two non-Nazi members of present Reichstag), Dr. Hjalmar Schacht (President of the Reichsbank and Minister of Economics), General Werner von Blomberg (Federal Minister of War), Baron von Neurath (Minister of Foreign Affairs) and Count Schwerin von Krosigk (Minister of Finance).

Parties and Leaders under former regime

All German political parties with the exception of the National Socialists have been dissolved, and most of the former leaders are now in exile, prison or retirement. New parties are not permitted to be formed. The most important of the old parties, with their former leaders, were the following:

SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY Had a moderate constitutional, state socialist program.

Leaders Dr. Otto Braun (formerly Prussian Prime Minister), Paul Löbe (formerly President of Reichstag), Dr. Rudolf Breitscheid, Friedrich Stampfer, Dr. Rudolf Hilferding (formerly Minister of Finance), Dr. Carl Severing (formerly Prussian Minister of Interior) and Otto Wels (Chairman of Party).

COMMUNIST PARTY The German section of the 3d Internationale.

Leaders Ernst Thälmann (Chairman of Party), Ernst Torgler (formerly Chairman of Reichstag group), Wilhelm Munzenberg, Hermann Remmele and Clara Zetkin.

CENTRE PARTY (Catholic) Represented the Catholic element, particularly in south and west Germany. Founded after 1870 to counteract anti-Rome policies of Bismarck.

Leaders Dr. Wilhelm Marx (formerly Chancellor four times), Dr. Joseph Wirth (formerly Chancellor, Finance Minister and Minister of Interior), Dr.

Heinrich Brüning (formerly Chancellor), Dr Adam Stegerwald (formerly Minister of Labor, formerly Prussian Prime Minister), Prelate Dr Ludwig Kaas (Chairman of Party)

GERMAN NATIONAL PEOPLE'S PARTY Nationalistic and monarchistic tendencies

Leaders Dr Alfred Hugenberg (Chairman of Party, non Nazi member of present Reichstag), Dr Ernst Oberfohren (formerly Chairman of Reichstag group), Oskar Hergt (formerly Minister of Justice, also Prussian Finance Minister under the Empire), Walther Graef (formerly Vice-President of Reichstag), Dr Wilhelm Koch (formerly Minister of Transport)

PEOPLE'S PARTY Originated from right wing of old National Liberal Party, represented large industrial interests

Leaders Eduard Dingeldey (Chairman of Party), Dr Paul Moldenhauer (formerly Minister of Finance), General Hans von Seeckt (formerly Chief of the Reichswehr)

STATE PARTY Founded in July, 1930, by leading members of the Democratic Party, the People's National Union, and young Liberals formerly belonging to the People's Party

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

Parties Supporting the National Government

For the history of the formation of the National Government and the alignment of parties see previous issues of the Political Handbook

The various parties supporting the Government do not differ essentially in policy, they continue to cooperate for the purposes for which the Government was set up, namely, the restoration and maintenance of prosperity. The Cabinet consists of 22 members, of whom 16 are Conservatives, 4 Liberal National, and 2 National Labor. In July, 1935, Mr. Stanley Baldwin succeeded Mr. Ramsay MacDonald as Prime Minister, and in November 1935 he appealed to the country for a renewal of confidence. The National Government was returned into office with a majority of approximately 250.

The following aspects of the Government's policy were emphasized in the King's speech of November 3rd, 1936, at the opening of Parliament. In foreign affairs the policy of the Government continues to be based upon membership in the League of Nations, and they have already made known at Geneva their proposals for the improved working and wider authority of the League. They will persist in their efforts to bring about the meeting of the five powers, signatories of the Treaty of Locarno. In regard to naval armaments they will urge that the Treaty signed in London on March 25th, 1936, should form the basis of an international agreement to which the naval powers would eventually become parties. In regard to the Spanish civil war they will maintain the international agreement for non intervention. In regard to Egypt, the Treaty of Alliance will be ratified. The work of strengthening the defense forces is being pressed on with the utmost energy and is now making rapid progress. The Government will "lose no opportunity of promoting general international appeasement and the limitation of expenditure on armaments which would naturally follow upon such an improvement of relations." In domestic affairs "the Government will continue to foster industrial activity at home and maintain their efforts to promote the freer exchange of goods throughout the world." The Government proposes to examine the position of the shipping industry with a view to securing the maintenance of an adequate mercantile marine, to reorganize the coal industry and unify coal royalties under national control, to develop home agriculture and fisheries. Legislation will be introduced to deal more effectively with persons or organizations disturbing the public peace. Laws relating to the condition of work in factories will be maintained and consolidated, the improvement of the physical condition of the nation, especially the younger members of the community, and the replacement of slum dwellings and the relief of overcrowding will be undertaken. Medical care for young persons and the extension to people of limited incomes of voluntary insurance for the purpose of pensions will be provided by legislation, as well as a reduction of the age limit for pensions to blind persons (See also policy of Conservative Party)

CONSERVATIVE PARTY Likewise called the Unionist Party, forms the large majority of the supporters of the National Government, successor to the Tory Party of the 18th and 19th centuries, opposes innovations based on theory or idealistic purposes as distinct from reforms based on inherited and tried institutions, opposes socialism, nationalization of property, and the interference by the state with individual rights. In foreign policy, stands for the stabilization of Europe on the basis of the League of Nations and firm adherence to British obligations as a signatory to the League Covenant, supports the World Court, favors disarmament movement provided it is secured by international agreement, supports principle of naval parity with the United States, but lays stress on need of guaranteeing imperial defenses, communications, and trade routes, on war debts holds to the principle of the Balfour Note. Imperial policy now heads the Conservative program. Advocates closer Empire coöperation by means of the extension to the utmost limits of imperial preference through tariffs or other measures agreed upon after consultation with the Dominions, recommends gradual extension of self-government in India in accordance with the terms of the Government of India Act recently passed; development of dependencies in Africa and mandated territories, stands for maintenance of security of Suez Canal by garrison in Egypt and opposes relinquishment of the Sudan to Egyptian rule. In domestic policy, favors stability of national finance combined with limited expenditure on schemes of constructive development, the reduction of taxation; the protection of industries by means of a tariff, assistance to and protection of agriculture, better marketing and production with restriction of imports, secure market and better prices for the home producer, and safeguards for the consumer, extension of agricultural credits and regularization of employment and wages of farm workers, in acquisition of small holdings, coöperation between organizations of employers and laborers, improvement of housing conditions, slum clearance and new methods of construction to relieve shortage, old age, orphans', widows' pensions, health and unemployment insurance; reform of House of Lords. During the period of the National Government there has been no new declaration of Conservative Policy.

Leaders Stanley Baldwin (Prime Minister, First Lord of the Treasury, and Leader of the House of Commons), Neville Chamberlain (Chancellor of the Exchequer), Lord Hailsham (Lord Chancellor), Anthony Eden (Foreign Secretary), Lord Halifax (Lord Privy Seal and Leader of the House of Lords), A. Burgin (Parliamentary Secretary to Board of Trade), G. H. Shakespeare (Parliamentary Secretary to Ministry of Health), Lord Hutchison of Montrose (Postmaster General), Viscount Wimborne (Chairman of Party) and James Blundell (Chief Whip)

NATIONAL LABOR The National Labor group was originally formed of those Labor Ministers and members, and their supporters, who helped in 1931 to establish the National Government Its policy is to strengthen the Government and to ensure that it receives the support of Labor views and traditions, to ensure that Labor ideals play their part in the councils of the Government and of Parliament, to maintain evolutionary democracy in politics and economics

Leaders Ramsay MacDonald (Lord President of the Council), Malcolm MacDonald (Secretary for Dominion Affairs), and Earl de la Warr (Chairman of Group)

Parties Opposing the Government

LABOR PARTY Composed of the membership of national organizations (trade unions, socialist and cooperative societies) and local organizations (constituencies and local labor parties), the constituent organizations nominating and financing candidates who, following endorsement by the National Executive, run as official Labor candidates, also has an agreement with the Cooperative Party (representing the interests of consumers organized in cooperative societies), whose members in Parliament form part of the Labor Party Strength is mainly in industrial constituencies According to its election manifesto, October 1935, the Labor Party's policies are in foreign policy to seek wholehearted cooperation with the League of Nations and with all states outside the League which desire peace, efficient maintenance of such defense forces as are necessary and consistent with League membership, desires large reductions by international agreement in naval and military forces and the abolition of the private manufacture of and trade in arms, desires complete abolition of all national air forces and effective international control of civil aviation and creation of an international air police force, would seek international cooperation in economic and industrial questions, would remove economic causes of war through equitable arrangements for access to markets, the international control of sources of supply of raw materials, and the extension of the mandates system for colonial territories In imperial policy, favors self-government for India which would have the status of a self governing Dominion, safeguards for native peoples in dependencies against exploitation by European capital, prevention of forced labor and of injurious or inequitable conditions of employment, protection of such peoples in occupation of their land and in exercise of civic rights, and development among them of services of health and education, the strengthening and extension of the authority of the Mandates Commission of the League of Nations, the establishment of machinery for the advice and supervision of intending emigrants In domestic policy it proposes public ownership of banking, coal industry, transport, electricity, iron and steel, cotton, and land, would amend industrial legislation so as to secure reasonable hours and conditions of employment and adequate compensation for accidents, would restore the freedom of trade unions lost through the 1927 Act and would repeal taxes recently imposed on coöperative societies, proposes national planning to eliminate distressed areas and to reabsorb unemployed, would abolish the means tests in unemployment relief, would raise the school leaving age and provide adequate maintenance allowances, would develop health services and extend old age pensions scheme, would provide healthy homes at reasonable rents until the needs of the nation are fully met, advocates abolition of House of Lords and reform of House of Commons procedure

Leaders Clement R. Attlee (Leader), Lord Snell (Leader in House of Lords), J. R. Clynes, Lord Parmoor, Lord Passfield (formerly Sidney Webb, M P), Lord Ponsonby, W. Wedgwood Benn, A. V. Alexander, Margaret Bondfield, Herbert Morrison, Christopher Addison, Arthur Greenwood, W. Adamson, H. B. Lees-Smith, Hugh Dalton, Susan Lawrence, J. S. Middleton (Secretary of Party), George Lansbury, Sir Stafford Cripps, G. D. H. Cole and Harold Laski. The last three named head a group which favors more strenuous application of socialism than Labor Party is prepared to adopt

INDEPENDENT LABOR PARTY A small group advocating the use of more direct and definite action to ensure "Socialism in our time"

Leaders James Maxton, A. Fenner Brockway, J. McGovern, A. Buchanan and Campbell Stephen

LIBERAL PARTY Successor to Whig Party. The former Independent (Lloyd George) Liberals rejoined the Liberal Party when Parliament convened after the 1935 election. According to its election manifesto, October 1935, its policies are in foreign policy to support and strengthen the League of Nations and maintain sufficient defense forces for needs of the times, would curtail expenditures, particularly on armaments, advocates strict control of manufacture and sale of armaments to eliminate the private profit motive, would end commerce of the hindrances that come from tariffs, quotas, subsidies, and unstable currencies to restore prosperity and a more tranquil world. In domestic policy advocates employment of idle capital and idle labour on public works, would carry out its published plans dealing with the organization of industry and the status of the worker, public ownership of land, development of agriculture, reform of the coal industry, and raising of the school leaving age, would revise the electoral system by adopting proportional representation

Ruler

KING GEORGE II

Born in 1890; succeeded to throne September 22, 1922
On December 18, 1923, the King was obliged to leave Greece as the result of revolution, and a Republic was proclaimed on March 24, 1924. The Monarchy was reestablished on October 10, 1935, and confirmed by a plebiscite. The King returned to Greece and resumed his rule on November 25, 1935

Cabinet

Non-Partisan "Amnesty" Cabinet
Reorganized August 5, 1936

Premier

PARLIAMENT

Abolished by Royal Decree of August 4, 1936

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

After the return of the King, Parliament was dissolved, and the new elections held January 26, 1936, gave 143 seats to the Venizelists, 141 to the anti-Venizelist groups and 15 to the Communists. As neither major group was able to form a cabinet or to agree with its opponents on a coalition, the non-partisan cabinet of Premier Demerdjis was continued in office, with General John Metaxas as Secretary of War. The deaths followed in fairly rapid succession of the ex-Regent, General Kondylis, Mr. Venizelos, Premier Demerdjis, and the ex-Premier and Leader of the Populist Party, Mr. Tsaldaris. Mr. Metaxas was appointed Premier on April 13, 1936, the non-party cabinet continuing in office. On August 4, 1936, Royal decrees were issued dissolving Parliament and suspending the constitutional rights of citizens. Since that date all laws have been enacted by Royal decree. All political parties have been abolished. Premier Metaxas has stated that parliamentary government has gone forever and that Greece will be developed into a corporative state, the Italian model being modified to meet Greek requirements.

Premier Metaxas is also Minister of Foreign Affairs, War, Marine and Air. He is assisted by C. Zavitsianos (Vice-President of the Council), Mayakos (Minister of Interior), G. Logothetis (Minister of Justice), G. Kynacos (Minister of Agriculture), Al. Koryzis (Minister of Public Assistance), C. Georgacopoulos (Minister of Public Instruction), A. Oeconomou (Minister of Communications) and A. Hadzikyriacos (Minister of National Economy)

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

During the last two years there has been no cleavage in political life along party lines as this term is understood elsewhere, in fact there are no parties denominated as such today, and consequently no party programs outside of the President's own program. Such division as there has been among political men has been along personal lines, and has not assumed proportions of any importance. The present government is a highly personal one, with all executive and legislative office holders pronounced "Vincent men."

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

A new Constitution for Honduras was enacted by a Constitutional Assembly on March 28, 1936 and took effect on April 15, 1936. It extended the present term of office of the President and Vice President of the Republic to January 1, 1943. The present incumbents were confirmed in office for that extended period. The new Constitution establishes a six year term for the President, Vice President and all deputies in Congress. The members of the Constitutional Assembly who were practically all deputies were continued in office by an article of that document up to December 4, 1942. The first election under the new Constitution will take place on the last Sunday of October, 1942. The Parliament is now entirely nationalist.

NATIONALIST PARTY (Partido Nacional, "Blues") This Party now controls in Parliament and the cabinet has been chosen from its members.

Leaders Gen. Tiburcio Carías A. NATIONAL UNION PARTY Successor of United Party, comprises small landowners, civil servants, and Agrarian Democratic and Citizens Parties, represents interests of estate owners, farmers, and some of Catholic and Protestant clergy and well-to-do peasants. Has favored restoration of Hapsburg dynasty, but supports existing form of government, is now officially uncommitted on the question of the person of the king and has announced its policy to be postponement of the monarchical question, supported execution of reconstruction plan under League of Nations, brought about the reestablishment of Upper Chamber of Parliament, giving representation of 38 seats to the aristocracy, introduced secret ballot in larger towns, and states that it favors gradual extension to country districts, where public ballot is still the rule except in the elections for Municipal Councils, favors agrarian and social reforms, aid to farmers' cooperative movement, development of agriculture and transportation and public education, and consolidation of the country on conservative evolutionary lines. Follows a foreign policy based on the Rome Agreements and aimed at recognition of Hungary's military equality, at an improvement in the treatment of minorities in the 'Succession States,' and at the revision by all peaceful means of the treaty of Trianon.

Leaders Kalman de Daranyi (Premier, and Minister of Agriculture) Bela Ivady (President of Party), Kalman Kanya (Minister of Foreign Affairs), Nicholas Kozma (Minister of Interior), Geza Bornemisza (Minister of Industry and of Commerce), Prof. Valentin Homan (Minister of Education), Andrew Lazar (Minister of Justice), Tihamer Fabinyi (Minister of Finance), William Roder (Minister of National Defense) John Mayer (formerly Minister of Agriculture), Dr. Tibor Zsitvay (formerly Minister of Justice) and Dr. Alexander Sztranyavszky (Speaker of Lower Chamber)

INDEPENDENT AGRARIAN PARTY Represents middle class and small landowners made up to some extent of former members of the former United Party who became dissatisfied with the Karolyi government's agrarian policy. Advocates national agrarian democracy, simplification of administration and introduction of the secret ballot. Opposes industrial protectionism in customs policy. In 1936 the Hungarian Populist Party under Monsignor Gieger dissolved as an independent group and united with the Agrarians to form a larger party with a monarchist program.

Leaders Tibor Eckhardt and Monsignor Gieger

CHRISTIAN SOCIAL ECONOMIC PARTY Sometimes called "Zichy Party", has a general program similar to National Union Party, but shows pro-Hapsburg tendencies, Catholic clerical with legitimist leanings, supported by anti-revolutionary elements of middle classes in towns and by part of the aristocracy and of the rural population. Favors social reforms and economic organization of the Christian population. Party was created through amalgamation of the United Christian National Party and the Christian Social Party.

Leaders Count John Zichy and Dr. Alexander Ernzt (formerly Minister of Education and Social Welfare)

SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY Represents industrial workers, and cooperates with middle class democrats and liberals, has a moderate constitutional socialist program, affiliated with 2d Internationale. Advocates a conciliatory foreign policy and compromise agreements with neighboring 'Succession States'.

Leaders Charles Peyer and Alexander Propper

LIBERAL OPPOSITION Represents mostly Jewish middle classes, middle class town population and commercial interests.

Leader Dr. Charles Rassay

LEGITIMISTS Advocacy of restoration of Hapsburgs by coronation of Archduke Otto is only point of agreement. The group is not a formal party.

Leaders Count Anthony Sigray and Margrave George Pallavicini

THE MARQUESS OF LINLITHGOW

Assumed office on April 18, 1936

Viceroy's Executive Council

The Viceroy's Council consists of seven Executive Members holding the following portfolios: Defense Department (the Commander-in-Chief); Home Department; Finance Department; Legislative Department (the Law Member); Commerce and Railways Department (the Commerce Member); Education, Health and Lands Department; and Industries and Labor Department. The Viceroy himself holds the portfolio of the Foreign and Political Department. Appointments are made by the Crown; three of the members must have served in India ten years. No limit of time is specified for tenure of office, but custom sets it at five years. The Council is not appointed as a whole, but individual members are appointed when necessary.

The Viceroy presides over the Council, and can reject its advice if it conflicts with his view of what is essential for the safety, tranquillity or interests of British India. In the Legislative Assembly one of the Executive Members of Council acts as Leader of the House. In the present Assembly these duties are discharged by the Law Member, Sir N. N. Sircar.

* The Government of India Act, passed by the British Parliament in 1935 sets up a New Constitution on the basis of (1) an All-India Federation to be introduced from a date not yet fixed and necessitating the ultimate reconstruction of the Central Legislature, and (2) Provincial Autonomy beginning April 1st, 1937.

† In the election of 1934 the Congress Party, the Malaviya Nationalists and smaller groups won 57 seats. The balance of power was held by the Independents led by M. A. Jinnah.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

The parties of India fall naturally into two main classes, those which co-operate with the Administration in trying to work the Constitution and in varying degrees support the Government, and those which do not.

CONGRESS PARTY The party is opposed to the new Constitution. It has decided to enter the legislatures but has not decided whether its members should enter Provincial Cabinets or not. It questions the right of the British Parliament to determine further stages of advance, and desires to attain complete independence for India. It started the civil disobedience movement, which aimed at paralyzing the administration. In May, 1934, it suspended civil disobedience, and formed the Congress Parliamentary Board to control the elections of Congress members to the Legislatures. Pandit Malaviya resigned and formed a separate "Nationalist" party to fight the award of separate electorates for the minority groups, but the declaration of policy in the Congress Election Manifesto and pronouncements by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru have lessened the differences between the two parties. The Congress Party is the best-organized political party in the country.

Leaders Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Babu Rajendra Prasad, S. Satyamurthy, Bhulabhai Desai (Leader of Opposition in Legislative Assembly), Pandit Malaviya, Dr. B. C. Roy and Mrs. Naidu. M. K. Gandhi, former leader of the Party, withdrew in 1934 from active politics.

MODERATE OR LIBERAL PARTY It desires Dominion Status as soon as possible but only by constitutional means. When it supports the Government does so critically. Includes wealthy caste Hindus of Western India, Madras and United Provinces.

Leaders Sir Chimanlal Setalvad, Sir Cowasjee Jehangir, C. Y. Chintamani and Srinivasa Sastri.

MOSLEM CONFERENCE AND MOSLEM LEAGUE These two organizations represent the majority of the Moslem population. While advocating political advance on constitutional lines they give general support to the Government. The one issue on which the Moslems maintain a unified front is the retention of separate electorates and weighted Moslem representation as provided by the Communal Award

Leaders H H the Agha Khan, Sir Mahommed Iqbal and M A Jinnah

EUROPEANS The Europeans believe in steady orderly progress on 'sound lines' They have supported the government Their party organization is the European Association with 34 branches and sub-branches throughout India This, however, includes only a small proportion of the Europeans in India, who, in general, have not built up any political organization

Leaders Sir Leslie Hudson (Legislative Assembly) and Mr George Morgan (President of the European Association)

NOMINATED The nominated members are nominated to secure the representation of particular interests The officials necessarily support the Government Though the majority of the others support the Government on certain questions some of them take up an independent line of their own and vote with one of the parties

INTERNATIONAL LABOR ORGANIZATION

Seat Geneva
Founded in 1919

The International Labor Organization was instituted by the Peace Conference of Paris (1919), and its Constitution forms Part XIII of the Treaty of Versailles and the corresponding Parts of the other Treaties of Peace. It is an official association of 62 States which seeks the improvement of the conditions of labor by international action.

The United States of America became a Member of the International Labor Organization on August 20, 1934. Brazil and Japan retained their membership when they resigned from the League of Nations.

The International Labor Organization consists of (a) the general Conference of the Members, (b) the Governing Body of the International Labor Office and (c) the International Labor Office itself.

The International Labor Conference meets at least once a year and each State is required to send four delegates, two of whom represent the Governments, while the other two represent the employers' and workers' organizations respectively. The decisions of the Conference on its agenda take the form of Draft Conventions and Recommendations and are submitted to the competent authority in each country by the Government with a view to ratification or other action.

The Governing Body consists of 32 persons, 16 of whom represent the Governments, while 8 represent the employers and 8 the workers. The Governing Body usually meets four times a year, and the term of office of the members is three years. The latter are elected by the Conference, with the exception that the eight States of chief industrial importance are always entitled to appoint Government members. Special provision is made to ensure adequate representation of non-European States.

The International Labor Office is under the control of the Governing Body. In addition to preparing the agenda of the Governing Body and the Conference, the Office conducts research into a wide field of industrial and economic problems. It also collects and supplies information relating to social and industrial questions throughout the world, and issues periodical publications and various studies on aspects of these problems.

PARLIAMENT

Iraq, formerly a part of the Ottoman Empire, was recognized as an independent kingdom by the treaty with Great Britain of October 10, 1922. Great Britain assumed, at the same time, a mandate for Iraq on behalf of the League of Nations. Following the treaty of alliance of June 30, 1930, between Great Britain and Iraq the mandate was abolished and Iraq admitted as a sovereign state to membership in the League of Nations on October 4, 1932.

A National Constituent Assembly was convened on March 27, 1924, and drafted a Constitution which came into force on March 21, 1924. According to its terms Iraq is a constitutional, hereditary monarchy with a parliamentary form of government. Parliament consists of a Senate of 20 members, nominated by the King, and an elected Chamber of 108 deputies. Following a military coup d'etat on October 29, 1936, led by Gen. Bakir Sidqi, Parliament was dissolved and a general election called.

PARTY PROGRAMS

No definite parties with stable organizations exist in Iraq. The Progressive Party led by Jazaf Pasha and Nuri Pasha as Said, and the Nationalist Party led by Yasin Pasha el Hashimi have both been weakened by the elimination of their leaders due to the 1936 coup d'etat. Both groups were strongly nationalist and pan-Arab. The Progressive Party under the leadership of the late King Faisal was inclined to cooperation with Great Britain in the attainment of its program.

FASCIST GRAND COUNCIL

According to the law of December 9, 1928, the Fascist Grand Council is the "supreme organ coordinating and uniting all the activities of the regime" The Grand Council acts as consultative body in all cases specified by the Law The advice of the Grand Council must be sought on all questions of a constitutional character, including the following subjects: succession to the throne, relations between Church and State, international agreements involving territorial changes It designates the deputies for the Lower Chamber The composition of the Council as provided by the Law of December 9, 1928, has been modified by the Law of December 14, 1929 The members fall into three categories (1) Life Members The Quadrumvirs of the March on Rome shall be members for "an unlimited period of time" (They now number three since one of them is deceased) (2) Functional Members The following are members because of their functions in other offices, for the entire period of such functions: the President of the Senate and the President of the Chamber of Deputies, the Ministers of Foreign Affairs, Interior, Justice, Finance, Education, Agriculture and Forests, and Corporations, the President of the Italian Academy, the Secretary and two Vice-Secretaries of the Fascist Party, the Commander in Chief of the National Fascist Militia, the President of the Special Court for the Defense of the State and the two Presidents of the National Confederations of Employers and Employees in Agriculture and Industry (3) Extraordinary Members Designated by a decree of the Head of the Government from among "persons who have deserved well of the Nation and of the cause of the Fascist Revolution" They may be reappointed In a similar manner such appointments may be revoked at any time The number of Extraordinary Members is not fixed In category two only the President of the Chamber of Deputies is designated by the assembly, the others are appointed to their offices by the Head of the Government

PARLIAMENT

UPPER CHAMBER
(Senate)

Senators are appointed for life by the King on the proposal of the Head of the Government. They are chosen from a number of categories listed in the Constitution, of which the principal are as follows: Church (no churchman has entered the Senate since 1870), High Military and Civil Service, Politics, Wealth, Science, Art, and Letters.

The number of Senators is not limited, but generally there are between 350 and 400. Senators are not listed under party headings. The present Government has a large majority in the Senate, although many Senators fail to take part in the voting of the most extreme Fascist measures. Others abstain from attending the sittings. What opposition exists is represented by one or two Senators who sometimes utter some prudent criticism.

LOWER CHAMBER

Party

Representation

400

Under the electoral law the Fascist Grand Council draws up a list of 400 candidates, taking into account nominations from the recognized (i.e., Fascist) organizations of employers, employees, professional classes, scientific, charitable, and other institutions designated by the Government. The list is voted upon by citizens twenty-one years of age or over, and also by citizens between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one who are married and have children—providing they fulfill one of several specified conditions, among which are payment of an annual contribution to a trade organization, or payment of a certain amount in taxes, or receipt of an income, salary, pension, or other permanent payment from the state, provinces, or municipalities, or membership in the clergy of the Roman Catholic or another recognized church. Votes are to be registered by "Yes" and "No" as to approval of the list drawn up by the Grand Council. In case of disapproval, the Court of Appeal at Rome is to order a new election with competing lists, which may be nominated by recognized (i.e., Fascist) organizations with 5,000 regularly enrolled members.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

FASCIST PARTY The functions of the Fascist party were defined by the Grand Council in a statute adopted in 1926 and amended in 1929 and 1932. The statute declares that the Fascist Party is a civil militia at the orders of the Duce and at the service of the state, and that its principal aim is to achieve the greatness of the Italian people. The Party supports the monarchy (although the law of December 9, 1925, admits the right of the Fascist Grand Council to designate in case there is the necessity to establish a new order for the succession to the throne), has created a strongly centralized local government entrusted to officials appointed by the central government, exercises strict control over all associations and the press, refers all labor disputes to special courts, with lockouts and strikes declared illegal, free labor unions have been abolished, the interests of both workers and employers being handled by various national confederations strictly supervised by the government. In foreign policy the Party is nationalistic, expansionist, and skeptical of the present form of the League of Nations. The Party is directed by the National Secretary, appointed by royal decree and having the right to meet with the Cabinet, and the Provincial Secretaries, appointed by the Head of the Government.

Leader Benito Mussolini (Head of the Government)

Secretary Achille Starace

Mr. Mussolini is assisted by Count Galliazzo Ciano (Minister for Foreign Affairs), Alessandro Lessona (Minister of Colonies), Dino Alfieri (Minister for Press and Propaganda) and Ferruccio Lantini (Minister of Corporations).

In November, 1926, the Fascist Government suppressed all parties in Italy with the exception of the Fascist Party. Article 4 of the Law of November 25, 1926, states "Anyone reorganizing under new names the associations dissolved by the police shall be liable to 3 to 5 years' imprisonment, anyone belonging to these illegal organizations, or carrying on propaganda for the doctrines, programs, or methods of action of such organizations shall receive from 2 to 5 years' imprisonment." An official press communique stated that the Liberal Party was not included among the parties suppressed, but in practice this party also fell under the ban as it was not allowed to organize meetings or to publish newspapers. According to Article 43 of the Concordat of February 11, 1929, confirmed after a bitter struggle by an agreement on September 2, 1931, Catholics are allowed to preserve their organizations in the Azione Cattolica, under the control of the Vatican and the bishops, provided they do not take part in political activities. Most of the liberal, republican, and socialist leaders, as well as the Secretary and leader of the Partito Popolare (Christian Democratic Party) are now living abroad.

PRESS

As all opposition papers in Italy have been suppressed or transformed into Fascist organs, no distinction is any longer to be made in the political affiliations of the existing Italian press. All are Fascist.

* Strictly speaking the Upper Chamber is not divided into political parties analogous to the Lower Chamber. There are, however, officially recognized groups with special political interests and views as listed above.

† The number of members classified by political groups (for Upper Chamber) and political parties (for Lower House) is that on the opening day of the 65th session on March 2, 1936, of the Parliament.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

Until a decade ago the right to vote was created by the payment of a direct tax to the Government. The electorate was divided in a general way along the lines of the local or business interests of the voters. The Election Law as it was amended in 1925 removed the tax qualification and increased the electorate from 3,500,000 taxpayers to a present total of over 15,000,000 persons.

The parliamentary balance of strength altered in the election of February 20, 1936, between the Seiyukai and Minseito to the advantage of the latter. The whole political situation was again radically changed by the military rebellion on February 26, 1936, and the assassination of such political figures as Viscount Saito and Finance Minister Takabasbi. The cabinet organized by Mr. Hirota was non-partisan in character and included two members each of the Seiyukai and Minseito parties.

Salient features of the platforms and political purposes of the different parties may be described as follows:

RIKKEN MINSEITO The Minseito, which now commands a majority in the Lower Chamber, was founded as the result of the amalgamation in 1927 of the former Kenseikai and the Seiyu Honto. For two years prior to 1932, the Minseito commanded an absolute majority in the Lower Chamber, but in the general elections of February 20, 1932, it fell to second place, its rival the Seiyukai obtaining the majority. In the general election of February 20, 1936, however, it once again triumphed. Enjoying as it does the strong support of the urban and industrial population, the Minseito aims at promoting the interest and welfare of the business and industrial classes. It advocates the gold standard, economy of national and local expenditure, national economic planning and relief for agriculture and the fishing industry. In foreign affairs it advocates peace and conciliation, but as regards Manchurian and Mongolian questions, their fundamental and positive settlement, favors an economical and scientific system of national defense.

Leaders: Chuji Machida (President of Party, formerly Minister of Commerce and Industry), Gotaro Ogawa (Minister of Commerce and Industry), Keikichi Tanomogi (Minister of Communications), Baron Wakatsuki (formerly Premier), Baron Tatsuo Yamamoto (formerly Minister of Home Affairs) and Ryutaro Nagai (formerly Minister of Overseas Affairs).

RIKKEN SEIYUKAI This party was in control of the Government from December 13, 1931, to May 26, 1932, when it relinquished power because of the assassination of its leader and the then Premier, Tsuyoshi Inukai, by a group of naval officers and military cadets. Owing to the political crisis which resulted, a super party Cabinet was installed. In the general election of February, 1936, it lost its majority in the Lower Chamber. It supports the Hirota Government but not without resistance. As it represents to a great degree the interests of the landowners, the Seiyukai in domestic affairs advocates the construction of railways, which are Government-owned, roads, irrigation works, etc., to enhance the value of property and promote the well being of the inhabitants of the rural districts. In foreign affairs it has advocated a "positive policy," and stressed the importance of commercial expansion in China and the development by Japanese of Manchuria and Mongolia. Its present attitude is opportunistic.

SHOWAKAI This party was organized by some of the Seiyukai leaders who became dissatisfied with the party's moral laxity and its inability to cope with the political crisis following the assassination of Premier Inukai. Keisuke Mochizuki, Nobuya Uchida, and Tatsunosuke Yamazaki, Ministers in the Olada Government, together with other 15 parliamentary members of the Seiyukai, deserted the party and organized a new independent party called the Showakai in December, 1935. In the general election of February, 1936, the new party obtained 25 seats in the House. The policy of the party may be described as liberal progressivism.

Leaders Keisuke Mochizuki (formerly Minister of Communications), Nobuya Uchida (formerly Minister of Railways) and Tatsunosuke Yamazaki (formerly Minister of Agriculture).

SHAKAI TAISHUTO (Socialist Popular Party) Until several years ago there were three or four so-called proletarian parties of socialistic or communistic flavor, but they were subjected to rigorous police interference. The only one which has survived is the Shakai Taishuto, the best organized and the most moderate of them all. This party grew remarkably stronger after the general election of 1936, on which occasion it received more than a half million votes and captured 18 seats in the Lower Chamber. The ascendancy of the party is attributed to the general awakening of the working population to their political interests. The party's platform is entirely socialistic, advocating the State control of industry and betterment of the working conditions of industrial workers. It advocates peace and opposes armament expansion.

Leaders Isao Abe (Head of the party), Jotaro Kawakami (Member of Parliament), Hisashi Aso (Secretary of the Party), Motojiro Sugiyama (Member of Parliament) and Kanichiro Kamei (Member of Parliament).

KOKUMIN DOMEI A new party of Fascist complexion formally organized in December, 1932, by Kenzo Adachi, formerly a leader of the Minseito and Home Minister in the Wakatsuki Government. Some 30 members of the Diet, mostly of the Minseito, deserted to join the new party. In the general election of February 1936 it obtained but 15 seats in the Diet. During 1936 several of its prominent members deserted. In domestic policy it advocates abandonment of economic liberalism, establishment of centrally controlled economy and replacement of the Cabinet by a National Council of State. Its foreign policy is based upon the desire to establish Japan's hegemony in the Orient.

PARLIAMENT

(Saeima)

Parliament was dissolved on May 15, 1934, pending reform of the Constitution. Legislative functions were assumed by the Council of Ministers on May 18, 1934

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

All political parties in Latvia have been suspended. The present Government, which took over power on May 15, 1934, through the proclamation of martial law and the suspension of the Parliament, is under the leadership of Mr. Karlis Ulmanis (President of the Council and President of the State, to which he was elected by the Council of Ministers) and General J. Balodis (Minister of War). The Law of April 11, 1936, provides that in the absence of the President, his office shall be filled by General Balodis, not as Minister of War, but in his personal capacity. The other members of the Cabinet are Margers Skujenieks (Vice Premier), Vilhelms Munters (Minister for Foreign Affairs), Vilis Gulbis (Minister of Interior), Alfreds Berzins (Vice Minister of Interior), Janis Birznieks (Minister of Agriculture), Vladislavs Rubulis (Minister of Social Welfare), Ludvigs Ekis (Minister of Finance), Bernhards Einbergs (Minister of Communications), Prof. A. Tents (Minister of Education) and Hermans Apsits (Minister of Justice). In its proclamation to the people of May 16, 1934, the Government announced that its program was to establish a prosperous and united Latvia, free from political factions, class distinctions and foreign influence. The economic program of the Government has been based on protection and assistance to the agricultural population, and the maintenance of a balanced foreign trade through the restriction of imports and the stimulation of exports. Its social program aims to further the development of a nationalistic, purely Lettish state with the elimination of all alien cultures and influences. The Government is severely opposed to communistic and socialistic activities. Its foreign policy is based on cooperation with the League of Nations, the maintenance of Latvian independence and the development of closer relations with Lithuania and Estonia.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Seat of Administration Geneva, Switzerland
Founded January 20, 1920

THE COVENANT

The organization and functions of the League are governed by a Covenant of twenty-six articles which form Part I of the Treaty of Versailles and other Peace Treaties, and which may be amended by a unanimous vote of the Council and a majority of the Assembly. The Covenant lays down the conditions of admission and withdrawal of States Members, the powers and procedure of the Council and the Assembly, the duties of the permanent secretariat, the obligations for the reduction of armaments, a procedure for the prevention of war, a system for the pacific settlement of disputes, provision for the reconsideration of treaties, a charter for the international administration of certain undeveloped territories, provisions for the international consideration of certain social and economic questions, the direction of certain international Bureaus, and the registration of all international treaties.

THE ASSEMBLY

Each member State has one vote in the Assembly and may have up to three delegates. The Assembly meets annually in Geneva on the nearest Monday to September tenth. It may hold extraordinary sessions. The Assembly lays down the program of work from year to year, votes the budget, admits new members, and elects the non permanent members of the Council and, with the Council, the Judges of the Permanent Court of International Justice. The Assembly has power to deal with "any matter within the sphere of action of the League or affecting the peace of the world."

Egypt	Japan *	United States

* Formerly a member but withdrew

THE COUNCIL

The Council is provisionally composed of fifteen States Members of which four (Great Britain, France, Italy and the U S S R) enjoy permanent terms and eleven are elected by the Assembly for three year terms. Of the non-permanent members three (Spain, Poland and China) have been declared to be re-eligible for successive elections, three have in practice been allocated to the Latin-American group of States, three others have been allotted respectively to the Dominion group, the Scandinavian group or the so-called ex-neutrals, to which Finland has been added, and the Little Entente, and one is occupied by a member of the Near East group. A seat provisionally created in 1933 for the "non-grouped" States was temporarily continued in 1936 with the election of Latvia to succeed Portugal.

Changes in the composition of the Council require action both by the Council and the Assembly.

The provisional creation in 1936 of two new non permanent seats — to which China and Latvia were elected — was approved by the Assembly on condition that "a definitive solution of the problems connected with the composition of the Council" should be found as soon as possible.

States Members of the Council are represented by one delegate with one vote. The Council meets three times annually — usually at Geneva — in January, May, and September, and may hold extraordinary sessions.

The Council acts as a supervisory and executive organ on the basis of the Assembly resolutions, special clauses of the Covenant, or special items in the peace treaties. It is also a body for mediation and conciliation of disputes, and an agency for inquiry and report on the basis of Articles XI, XV, and XVII of the Covenant. Finally, it deals with reports of Permanent and Special Commissions, and in general supervises the work of the Secretariat.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

At the opening of Congress in 1928, President Calles announced that he would not under any circumstances run for re-election and asked for the formation of a political party. As a result of this the National Revolutionary Party was organized. It is in substance the consolidation of many local state groups into a national party. It controls the Congress and the Government, there being no opposition party as understood in other countries.

On September 3, 1932, President Ortiz Rubio, who had assumed office on February 5, 1930, following his election in 1929, resigned, giving as his reason ill health and divergence of opinion between himself and the National Revolutionary Party. On the following day Congress accepted his resignation and elected General Rodríguez to fill his unexpired term.

President Lázaro Cárdenas assumed office on November 30, 1934. He is assisted by the following cabinet: Silvestre Guerrero (Minister of Interior), Gen. Eduardo Háy (Minister of Foreign Affairs), Eduardo R. Suárez (Minister of Finance), Rafael Sánchez Tapia (Minister of National Economy), Gen. Saturnino Cedillo (Minister of Agriculture), Gonzalo Vázquez Vela (Minister of Education), Cosme Hinojosa (Governor of the Federal District), Gen. Francisco J. Mujica (Minister of Communications and Public Works), Dr. José Siurob (Minister of Public Health), Genaro V. Vázquez (Minister of Labor), Gabino Vázquez (Agrarian Minister) and I. García Tellez (Attorney General).

Emilio Portes Gil resigned the presidency of the National Revolutionary Party in August, 1936, and was succeeded by Silvano Barba González. General Plutarco Calles (formerly President of Mexico) was expelled from the Party in December, 1935, and arrested and deported to the United States in April, 1936

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

ROMAN CATHOLIC STATE PARTY Includes nearly the entire Roman Catholic population of the Netherlands, favors a democratic government of the state and democratic social measures bases its program on the Papal encyclicals Graves de Commune Re, Immortale Dei, Rerum Novarum and Quadragesimo Anno, from these deriving certain theses with regard to religion, family, and property as the foundations of society, with education as the duty and right of parents. In foreign policy, favors cooperation with the League of Nations in accordance with the peace note of Pope Benedict XV, restoration of international trade and international economic coöperation

SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC LABOR PARTY A moderate constitutional socialist party, aiming at nationalization of industries and land and radical labor legislation, combating of unemployment by industrialization and public works, training in self government for colonies, compulsory elementary education up to age 16, local option and state pensions

Leaders Koos Vorrink (President of Party, Senator), J W Albarda (Parliamentary Leader in Lower Chamber), W H Vliegen (member of Lower Chamber), Dr H Polak (Senator), E Kupers (Member of Lower Chamber, President of Trade Unions Federation) and S de la Bella (Senator)

ANTI REVOLUTIONARY PARTY Also known as the Calvinist Party, combats the principles of the French Revolution of 1789, conservative with democratic tendency in social questions, stands for Calvinistic Christian principles in political life and legislation, but without direct church control, and so favors separation of Church and State. A nationalistic party, urging maintenance of a strong army and navy and colonial power, opposed to socialism, favors strict economy, denominational education with state support, capital punishment, abolition of state lottery, and strict observance of Sunday rest

Leaders J Schouten (President of Party and parliamentary leader), Dr H Colijn (Premier), Prof P A Diepenhorst (Senator), Dr J A de Wilde (Minister of Interior) and Prof Dr A Anema (Senator)

CHRISTIAN HISTORICAL PARTY A moderate conservative party advocating from the religious point of view a program generally similar to that of the Anti-Revolutionary Party. It wishes to restrict State interference in industry and trade, and favors a strong national defense system subject to rigid economy, and reform labor legislation

LIBERAL PARTY Also known as League of Freedom, stands for full individual and religious liberty, represents varied social groups of traders, agriculturists, industrialists, intellectuals. In foreign policy, favors cooperation with and reinforcement of League of Nations. In domestic policy, advocates unrestricted free trade, and favors democratic administration while opposing socialization of industry, restriction of free competition, and paternalism in government generally, seeks reduction of taxation and adjustment according to ability to pay, development of agriculture, maintenance of undenominational public schools, and complete equality of rights for men and women

(Legislature Dissolved)

In November, 1933, because of the financial emergency, Newfoundland voluntarily gave up its status as a self-governing Dominion to become a British Crown Colony. After appropriate legislation by the British Parliament, responsible government in Newfoundland was temporarily suspended and legislative and executive authority vested in a Commission of Six—three Newfoundlanders and three English—all appointed by the British Government. The Governor presides over this Commission. The charter granted to Newfoundland as a Dominion has thus been temporarily suspended until the country "becomes self-supporting."

The members of the Commission of Government are British, Robert Benson Ewbank (Natural Resources), Thomas Lodge (Public Utilities), E. N. R. Trentham (Finance), Newfoundlanders, J. A. Winter (Home Affairs), William R. Howley (Justice), J. C. Puddester (Public Health)

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

In the general election of November 27, 1935, Prime Minister Forbes' "stable budget" government was defeated by the Labor Party led by Michael J. Savage thus bringing that party into power for the first time and ending four years of coalition rule.

The 1935 election manifesto establishes as the objective of the Labor Party the maximum utilization of the Dominion's resources for the purpose of organizing an internal economy that will distribute production and service so as to guarantee every person able and willing to work an income sufficient to ensure him and his dependents of a decent standard of living. This is to be achieved by the following policies: state control of currency and credit, guaranteed prices to farmers for the supply of primary products sufficient for the internal and external requirements of the Dominion, reciprocal trade agreements with overseas countries, a statutory minimum wage and salary to provide an adequate standard of living for all workers, a national health insurance, superannuation and pensions system, organization of productive development employment through public works, assistance to local authorities and the fostering of secondary industries, reorganization of the education system to provide the maximum facilities to all children from kindergarten to university, reorganization of the Mortgage Corporation on the lines similar to the State

Advances Department, safeguarding of the superannuation rights of public servants, restoration of cuts made in all wages and salaries, support of the League of Nations for the avoidance of war and the maintenance of peace, and the closest relations with the nations within the British Commonwealth.

Leaders Michael J. Savage (Prime Minister and Minister of External and Native Affairs), Mark Fagan (Legislative Council, Minister without portfolio), Peter Fraser (Minister of Education, Health and Marine), Edwin J. Howard (Chairman of Committees), Henry G. R. Mason (Attorney General and Minister of Justice), Walter Nash (Minister of Finance and Customs), W. E. Parry (Minister of Internal Affairs and Pensions), Robert Semple (Minister of Public Works and Transport), Daniel G. Sullivan (Minister of Railways and Industries), W. L. Martin (Minister of Agriculture), F. Langstone (Minister of Lands), W. H. T. Armstrong (Minister of Labor, Employment and Immigration), F. P. C. Webb (Minister of Mines), F. Jones (Postmaster General and Minister of Defense) and W. E. Barnard (Speaker of the Lower Chamber).

NATIONAL POLITICAL FEDERATION The union of the old Reform (Conservative) and United (Liberal) parties was concluded in September, 1931 to meet the crisis caused by the economic depression. The election platform of 1935 relied chiefly on the Government's record of achievement in office. The balancing of the budget, the reduction of unemployment and the improvement of farming conditions were, however, achieved by means not contemplated in the 1931 election such as depreciation of the currency, and a forced reduction of interest and mortgage rates, rents, wages and salaries. It is apparent that credit for the Government's achievement was outweighed at the 1935 election by disapproval of the means employed.

Leaders George W. Forbes (Leader of the Opposition, formerly Prime Minister), J. Gordon Coates (formerly Minister of Finance), Ethelbert A. Ransom (formerly Minister of Lands), William Downie Stewart (formerly Minister of Finance), James A. Young (formerly Minister of Health and Internal Affairs), Robert Masters (formerly Minister of Education), John G. Cobbe (formerly Minister of Defense), Sidney G. Smith (formerly Postmaster General and Employment), Charles E. de la Barca Macmillan (formerly Minister of Agriculture) and John Bitchener (formerly Minister of Public Works).

* The Storting having been properly constituted one-fourth of the members — 38 — are elected as members of the Lagting according to the proportional system, while the remainder forms the Odelsting. All questions which do not relate to new laws or to the amending of existing laws (by which a mere advisory decisions regulating the legal position of Norwegian subjects in contrast to other countries, where given a by all parliamentary decisions as a provision in the form of laws) are treated by the whole Storting. For example, the budget and all other money bills. Bills relating to laws are treated by the Odelsting and then by the Lagting, and, if a final agreement is not reached, by the whole Storting. Constitutional amendments must be adopted by the whole Storting and a majority of two-thirds is required. The Lagting together with the High Court of Justice, forms the Ch of State Court.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

LABOR PARTY More radical than other Labor parties of western Europe, but independent of both 2d and 3d Internationales, strengthened during 1927 by union with it of former Social Democratic Party, Marxist party aiming at establishment of Socialist community not only by parliamentary means but also by class war, or trade unionism

Leaders J. Nygaardsvold (Premier), Martin Tranmæl (editor of Arbeiderbladet), Oscar Torp (Chairman of Party, Minister for Social Affairs), Alfred M. Madsen (Minister of Commerce), Magnus Nilssen (Speaker of Storting, leader of Moderate faction), Fredrik Monsen (Minister of War), K. P. P. Bergsvik (Minister of Finance), Halvdan Koht (Minister of Foreign Affairs), Olav Hindahl (President of the Norwegian Federation of Labor) and Trygve Lie (Minister of Justice)

CONSERVATIVE PARTY Cooperates with Independent Liberal Party. A Liberal Conservative national party, strongly anti-Communist. The chief object of the party is to restore the economic life of the country and the State finances, to uphold democratic government, private property, private initiative, and personal liberty.

Leaders C. J. Hambro (Speaker of Storting, Leader of Parliamentary Group), Ivar Lykke (formerly Premier), Joh. H. Andresen (Chairman of Party) and Eyvind Getz.

LIBERAL PARTY (The Left) Advocates national and democratic progress on the basis of the present system by gradual reforms of an economic, social and cultural nature, supports the national language movement.

Leaders Johan Ludwig Mowinckel (formerly Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs), H. Fiske (formerly Minister of Agriculture), E. Evenrud (Secretary of Party), Veri Valen (Party Leader in Storting), and Betzy Kjelsberg (President of the National Council of Women).

AGRARIAN PARTY The platform of the party is to uphold democratic government, law and order, to protect the State and society against all subversive and revolutionary tendencies, and to pursue a policy of retrenchment in the administration. An independent and economically strong farmer class, in the opinion of the party, is necessary for the progress and welfare of the country.

Leaders J. Hundseid (Chairman of Party, formerly Premier and Minister of Agriculture), J. Sundby (formerly Minister of Finance), G. Moseid (Speaker of the Lagting), Johan E. Mellbye (formerly Minister of Agriculture), and E. G. Borch.

INDEPENDENT LIBERAL PARTY (Liberal Left) A national and liberal party upholding the rights of individuals socially, economically and culturally.

Leaders Dr. Rolf Thommessen (Editor of the Tidens Tegn), J. Hjort (Professor at the University of Oslo), K. W. Wehring (formerly Minister of Defense) and Ch. Robertson (formerly Minister of Commerce).

RADICAL PEOPLE'S PARTY Its policy is national and radical-democratic, it advocates the promotion of international peace and arbitration, free trade, social reforms tending to the economic self-government of the workers, prohibition of spirits, and support of national language movement.

Leader Alf Mjøs.

SOCIAL REFORM PARTY Advocates the creation of a community on a Christian basis and without measures of coercion.

Leader Dybwad Brochmann.

CHRISTIAN PEOPLE'S PARTY A new and liberal party. In last election it put up candidates in only one constituency, Hordaland, in Western Norway. Advocates the promotion of Christian principles in politics.

Leader N. Lavik (Member of Storting).

NATIONAL UNION PARTY Anti Communistic It seeks a union of members of all parties opposed to communistic form of government Has attracted to its ranks young conservative element Failed to return any members to Storting at last elections

Leader Vidkun Quisling (formerly Minister of Defense)

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

In the national elections of June 7, 1936, the National Revolutionary, National Liberal and Conservative Parties supported the candidacy of Dr Juan Demostenes Arosemena and are the so-called Government parties in the National Assembly. The Doctrinary Liberal, Democratic Doctrinary Liberal, Reform Liberal, and Socialist parties, all of which supported the candidacy of Domingo Diaz A, together with the United Liberals, of which ex-President Belisario Porras was the candidate, form the opposition bloc, or "Popular Front." Except for the Socialist Party, led by Dr. Demetrio Porras, no party has a distinctive program, personal and party allegiances being extremely flexible.

Ratification of the treaty and conventions signed with the United States on March 2, 1936, the extension of the so-called "free trade" policies of ex-President Arias, and agricultural intensification in the provinces are the more important present concerns of the new administration.

President Arosemena's cabinet includes Hector Valdez (Secretary of Government), Jose L. Lefevre (Minister of Foreign Affairs), Ezequiel Fernandez (Minister of Finance), Leopoldo Arosemena (Minister of Public Works), Narciso Garay (Minister of Commerce and Labor) and Anibal Rios (Minister of Education). Messrs. Fernandez and Rios were the only new appointments, the others having served in the Cabinet of President Arias.

* As constituted prior to the revolution of February, 1936

Following the overthrow of President Ayala on February 17, 1936, by a military junta, Colonel Rafael Franco was named Provisional President of Paraguay. He assumed office on February 19th. On March 10, 1936, his government issued a decree establishing a "Totalitarian State."

The decree stated that the recent revolution "involved the same social transformations as those of contemporary European Totalitarian States in the sense that the liberating Revolution and the State are now one and the same thing." It announced that the Government will forthwith "mobilize the voluntary coöperation of all citizens for carrying out all their permanent activities directly through State organizations" under a specially appointed commission. The Minister of the Interior was placed in control of "all questions relating to the social politics of the State," and a National Labour Department was formed with complete power over trade unions and all conflicts between capital and labour. Political activities and the formation of political parties "which do not emanate explicitly from the State" were prohibited for one year. All newspapers were already under Government control. Col. Franco is assisted by Dr. Juan Stefanich (Minister of Foreign Affairs), Dr. German Soler (Minister of Interior), Carlos Casabianca and Roque Gaona.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

The political parties, their programs and leaders, prior to the revolution of February, 1936, were as follows:

LIBERAL PARTY Advocated cordial international relations, adherence to international agreements promoting solidarity, and arbitration, electoral reform, financial, economic, and agrarian reform, obligatory military service, improvement and expansion of educational system, social reform, including improvement of legal status of women, improvement of public health, and protection of labor

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PARTY This party has been out of power for many years. It did not participate in the 1932 presidential election or the 1935 congressional election.

Leaders Dr Pedro Peña, Dr Salvador Fernandez, Dr Francisco Chavez, Dr Antonio Sosa, Dr Cesar Vasconcellos and Dr Federico Chaver

PARLIAMENT

(Congreso Constituyente)

Congress was dissolved as a result of the revolution of August 22, 1930. A Constituent Assembly was elected on October 11, 1931, for the purpose of reforming the National Constitution and to consider other important measures. The new Constitution was promulgated April 9, 1933. The new Constitution provided that by-elections shall be held and that the Constituent Assembly be divided into the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate. Elections were held on October 11, 1936, but the count of returns was not completed. The President called a special session of Congress at which he was, on November 14, 1936, granted power to govern by executive order. Congress then voted its immediate dissolution.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

As a consequence of the revolution of August, 1930, the old parties have disappeared from the political stage of Peru. An important group with branches in several Latin American countries and composed of the younger intellectual and middle classes denominated as the 'Apra Party' (Alianza Popular Revolucionaria Americana) attained importance and was the principal opponent to the "Unión Revolucionaria," the party headed by the President, General Luis M. Sanchez Cerro, at the October 11, 1931, elections. In 1936 this Party was declared by the National Electoral Board to be "an international organization" and not allowed to have candidates for public office.

UNIÓN REVOLUCIONARIA Advocates the continuance of existing relations between the State and the Church, industrial, agricultural (diversification of crops) and commercial development, social reforms, reintegration of the Indian population into the national life, economic, financial and general reorganization. Proposes to base all its financial reforms on a balanced budget and a stable money. Favors road development, promotion of Army and Navy institutions, and assumes a strongly nationalistic attitude. It favors a fascist organization of government.

Leaders Luis A. Flores (President of Party), Abelardo Solís, Ernesto Delgado

Gutierrez, Manuel Diez Canseco, Pablo Ernesto Sanchez Cerro and General Cirilio Ortega

DESCENTRALISTA PARTY Advocates states' rights and a removal of many governmental functions and privileges from the capital to the provinces

Leaders M J Bustamante de la Fuente, Alberto Delgado, Erasmo Roca, Emilio Romero, Juan Mercado and Climaco Tamayo

CIVILISTA PARTY Cooperates with Union Revolucionaria but does not figure officially as a party organization Capitalistic and conservative Includes the aristocracy and the wealthy classes

Leaders J M Garcia Bedoya, Jose de la Riva Agüero y Osma, Ramón Aspillaga and Luis Miro Quesada

SOCIALIST PARTY Advocates social reforms, separation of Church and State, government control of labor disputes, reduction of Army and Navy, strengthening of labor indemnity and insurance laws, liberal educational reform, protection of the Indians and division of agricultural land

Leaders Alberto Arca Parro, Luciano Castillo, Hildebrando Castro Pozo and Francisco Sanchez Rios

DEMOCRATIC REFORM PARTY In foreign policy, advocated the settlement of the Tacna Arica question on the basis of the Treaty of Lima, June, 1929, and the development of Pan-Americanism on broad, just, and enduring lines In domestic policy, favors the maintenance of existing close relations between the State and Church, strongly advocates industrial and agricultural development, government interference in labor disputes, social reforms, protective tariff and educational reform This was the party of the late former President Augusto B Leguia

Leaders Julio Ego Aguirre, Robert Leguia, Jose Angel Escalante, Pedro Oliveira and Clemente Palma

CONSTITUTIONAL PARTY The Program of the Constitutional Party, now inactive, was similar to that of the Democratic Reform Party except for being strongly protectionist and nationalistic

Leaders General Gerardo Alvarez, Celestino Manchego Muñoz and Julio C Guerrero

DEMOCRATIC PARTY Founded in 1869 by Don Nicolas de Piérola, inactive for ten years following death of its founder and leader In 1923 it was reorganized by a group of Pierola's political friends Supported and collaborated with the Democratic Reform Party, under the leadership of Carlos de Pierola

Leader Amadeo Pierola

APRA PARTY (Alianza Popular Revolucionaria Americana) A radical party, anti imperialistic In foreign policy, advocates close coöperation with Indo-American countries In domestic policy, proposes advanced social reforms, industrial and agricultural development with subdivision of large landed estates, educational reform and general economic reorganization

Leaders Victor Raul Haya de la Torre, Manuel Seoane, Manuel Cox, Luis Alberto Sanchez and Luis Heysen

PARTIDO SOCIAL NACIONALISTA A center party which at the beginning was allied with the Union Revolucionaria Party

Leaders Elias Lozada Benavente, J Wieland and Julio Padilla Abril

PARTIDO NACIONALISTA A new party organized to represent a moderate, conservative group which wants as its program special attention to the economic and financial problems of the country It represents the civilista ideas in politics, i. e. property owners interests, nationalistic tendencies, dominance of the Catholic Church

Leaders Clemente Revilla, Victor M Arevalo, Alfredo Herrera, Carlos Sayan Alvarez and J Calmell del Solar

PARTIDO SOCIAL DEMOCRATA A new party which wants to maintain closer relations between the State and the Church, and a fairly advanced social program in favor of the working classes. During the presidential elections of 1936 the leader of this party received the vote of the Apra Party since the latter's candidate was debarred. When it appeared that there would be a majority for the Socialist candidate the count of the returns was suspended.

Leader Dr Luis Eguiguren

LIBERAL PARTY Reorganized August, 1933. Favors a more active labor and educational program, administrative decentralization.

Leaders Jose Balta, Gerardo Balbuena, Wenceslao Valera, Ricardo Montegudo and Ricardo Flores

PARTIDO NACIONAL AGRARIO Represents group of landowners whose political aims are similar to those of the Nacionatistas

Leaders Pedro Beltrán and Gerardo Klinge

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

In 1935, the controlling Nacionalista-Conservative Party split over the issue of the acceptance of the Hawes-Cutting-Hare Immigration Act, passed over the veto of President Hoover by the United States Congress. The so-called "Pro" group was led by Senator Sergio Osmeña and Speaker Manuel Roxas, and the "Anti" group by Senate President Manuel L. Quezon. The Act was rejected by the Philippine Legislature in October, 1935.

On May 1, 1934, the Legislature, in a special session, voted to accept the substitute Tydings-McDuffie Act, approved by President Roosevelt, both groups voting for acceptance.

*M. Murphy has resigned. His successor has not yet been appointed.

In the bitterly contested elections for membership in the Legislature held the following month, the Quezon group, which was in power, was overwhelmingly victorious

The elections for membership in the Constitutional Convention, provided for in the Tydings McDuffie Act, were held on a non partisan basis on July 10, 1934, and leaders of both groups, although not Mr Quezon and Mr Osmena themselves, took part in the subsequent deliberations

After the approval of the Constitution by President Roosevelt, a movement began for cooperation between the two groups in the interests of national unity, and Mr Quezon and Mr Osmena accepted the nominations for the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the Commonwealth respectively under a formally launched coalition. The victorious candidates for seats in the new National Assembly all ran on the coalition platform. Other parties in the field were the National Socialist Party led by General Emilio Aguinaldo and the Republican Party, led by Bishop Gregorio Aglipay both parties being created for the occasion and their names being of little significance. They made a poor showing against the combined Quezon Osmena forces in the elections held on September 11, 1935

In October, 1935, a formal fusion was approved by the coalition leaders, but this has not yet been ratified by the respective memberships of the two groups.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

While political parties in Poland no longer have representation as such in the Parliament, they still exist outside of Parliament.

Marshall Edward Rydz Smigły (Inspector General of the Army) is recognized as the nation's political leader next to President Mościcki.

Among the leaders in Parliament the following might be mentioned:

Senators — J. Beck (Minister of Foreign Affairs), Bobrowski (workers' leader), Decykiewicz (Ukrainian leader), J. Jędrzejewicz (formerly Premier), W. Małowski (one of authors of new Polish Constitution), J. Radziwiłł (representing large landowning interests).

Parties Outside of Parliament

CONSERVATIVE POLITICAL UNION Pro-government. Represents large land owning interests.

Leaders J. Radziwiłł, J. Bobrzyński, E. Sapieha and J. Wielowieyski

NATIONAL PARTY (National Democrats) Conservative, nationalistic, democratic, advocates amendment of constitution to assure equilibrium between executive and legislative powers, represents largely the well-to-do classes of merchants, landowners, and professional circles, intellectuals, retail merchants, small bourgeoisie, and some peasants and workmen. Opposes parties favoring regional self government for national minorities and radical agrarian reforms, pro-Catholic and anti revolutionary. Party has strong control of university students.

Leaders Roman Rybarski (President of Party) Seweryn Czetwertyński, Stanisław Jasiukowicz, Stanisław Rymar, Stanisław Stronski and Wojciech Trampezyński

LABOR PARTY A Center Party which includes intellectuals and working classes pro-Government

Leaders J Barański, W Makowski and M Evert

PEASANT PARTY Formerly consisted of three separate groups the Piast, Wyzwolenie, and Peasant Union. Now amalgamated into one party. The Piast represents the well-to-do farmers, strongly supporting Agrarian reform but opposed to the expropriation of property without indemnity. The Wyzwolenie represents a radical peasant group consisting of small landholders and farm workers, advocates expropriation without compensation, separation of Church and State. The Peasant Union is a radical peasant group similar to the Wyzwolenie.

Leaders Maciej Rataj and St. Thugutt

POLISH SOCIALIST PARTY The oldest Polish party, with a moderate national constitutional socialist program, adherent of 2d Internationale represents trade unions, radical intellectuals, small farm holders, and farm workers. Favors regional self government for national minorities, opposes communism. In acute opposition to the Government.

Leaders Mieczysław Niedziałkowski (Chairman of Party), Kazimierz Czapinski and Zygmunt Piotrowski

NATIONAL LABOR PARTY A patriotic radical party, not adhering to 2d Internationale, a militant organization drawing support from trade unionists in former German provinces and Central Poland, pro-Catholic

A new constitution for Portugal was adopted on March 19, 1933, and is gradually being put into operation. This Constitution is modeled on the Corporative State plan. It provides for the election of the President by the people for a term of seven years, a National Assembly of ninety members is similarly elected for a term of four years, alongside of this Assembly functions a Corporative Chamber composed of seventy-nine members who are representatives of the local "authorities" and of the several branches of social activities administrative, moral, cultural and economic.

The elections for the first National Assembly took place on December 16, 1934, on a single ticket favorable to the present Government and was endorsed by over 80% of the electorate. The Assembly and the Corporative Chamber were convened on January 11, 1935, and have functioned regularly since.

A general election was held on February 17, 1935, for the selection of a President of the republic. The only candidate proposed was General Carmona who has held that office since 1928. A State Council was constituted on October 28, 1934, — composed of the Presidents of the Council of Ministers, National Assembly, Corporate Chamber and Supreme Court, and three life members,

Dr Armindo Rodrigues Monteiro, General Domingos Alves da Costa Oliveira and Dr Manoel Rodrigues, Jr — whose duties are to advise the President when serious national emergencies arise and to convoke or dissolve the National Assembly. Several decrees dealing with the corporative organization of the State have been issued. Under the new regime the President appoints the Premier, who in turn selects a Cabinet. The Cabinet is not responsible to Parliament.

The present Cabinet is composed as follows: Dr Antonio de Oliveira Salazar (Premier, Minister of Finance and of War, and Acting Minister of Foreign Affairs), Dr Mario Paes de Sousa (Minister of Interior), Dr Manoel Rodrigues, Jr (Minister of Justice), Commander Manuel Ortins de Bettencourt (Minister of Marine), Maj J J d'Andrade e Silva Abranches (Minister of Public Works), Dr F J Vieira Machado (Minister of Colonies), Dr Antonio F Carneiro Pacheco (Minister of Public Instruction), Dr Pedro Teotónio Pereira (Minister of Commerce) and Dr Rafael da Silva Neves Duque (Minister of Agriculture).

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

Since the dissolution of the old Parliament the party system, in the ordinary sense, has ceased to exist. The old parties were all disbanded.

NATIONAL UNION (União Nacional) A union in support of the Dictatorship appealing to all classes of society, regardless of previous political affiliations or religious beliefs.

Leaders Dr Antonio de Oliveira Salazar (Premier, President of Party), F Nobre Guedes, Dr Albino Pinto Soares dos Reis, Jr, Dr J Antonio Marques and Joaquim Lança (Secretary of Party).

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

NATIONAL LIBERAL PARTY A conservative and nationalist party accustomed to political supremacy from 1919 to 1923 under the leadership of the late Ion Bratianu (formerly Premier, a son of Ion C Bratianu for many years Premier), centralistic in tendency, and controlling (at least in the old Kingdom) most of the banks and larger industrial enterprises the directors of which rule the economic life of the country and are all prominent in party politics, opposed to foreign domination of Rumanian financial and commercial enterprise and to concessions of oil lands to foreign-owned companies. Immedi-

Minister of Justice), Prof D Gusti (formerly Minister of Public Instruction and Cults), P Halippa (formerly Minister for Bessarabia without portfolio), Sauciu Saveanu (formerly Minister for Bucovina without portfolio) and N Costachescu (formerly Speaker of the Upper Chamber)

NATIONAL-CHRISTIAN PARTY This party was formed by the fusion in July 1935 of Professor Cuza's anti-Semitic group, the "National Christian Defense League," and the greater part of Octavian Goga's "National Agrarian" party. Although this party has as yet not presented itself in a general election, it is considered today the third strongest party, having 18 deputies as its representation in Parliament by the combination of the two groups. The party is ultra-nationalistic, strongly anti-Semitic and its leaders are admirers of Hitler and his methods.

MINOR PARTIES (With Parliamentary Representation) Include the National Liberal Party (George Bratianu group) which seceded from the old National Liberal Party in January 1930, the Hungarian Party, composed of a reactionary faction representing interests of former landholders led by Count George Bethlen, brother of the former Hungarian Premier, and a democratic faction led by Elmer Gyaras and Iosif Sandor, the German Party, an organization of two factions, one conservative and able to cooperate with the major party in power, led by Hans Otto Roth and Rudolf Brandsch, and the other, a younger group, strongly pro-Hitler, led by Fritz Gabritius and Helmut Wolff, the Radical Peasant Party, headed by G Iunian, who with other radical wing deputies separated from the National Peasant Party in October, 1932, on account of divergencies in connection with certain economic and financial legislation, the Agrarian Union, led by Mr C Argetoianu, formerly Minister of Finance and Minister of Interior in Iorga Cabinet of 1932-33, is mostly a personal following of its leader, the Rumanian Front, a newly formed nationalist group which, with its leader, Vaida-Voevod, left the National Peasant Party to seek to put into practice their slogan "Numerus Valachicus", the People's Party, led by General Al Averescu, the National Democratic Party, under the leadership of former Premier Professor Iorga, the Conservative Party, headed by Gr Filipescu, owner of the newspaper Epoca, and the Social Democrat Party, a socialist group represented by one Senator, George Grigorovici, of negligible influence.

MINOR PARTIES (With No Parliamentary Representation) The Jewish Party, formed after the War to voice the interests of the 900,000 Jews, the Ukrainian Party (800,000 Ukrainians of Bucovina and Bessarabia), the Bulgarian Party (200,000 Bulgarians in the Dobrudja), Patriotic Union, a group of ultra nationalists, former army officers led by General George Dragu, Liberal Democrats, dissident Liberals under the leadership of Th Florescu, National Agrarian Party, a continuation of old Goga group, headed by V Valjean who refused to follow Goga under a platform program of anti-Semitism, and "All for Country," group of former Iron Guards, under the leadership of General George Cantacuzino and Zelea Codreanu.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

COMMUNIST PARTY The only authorized and organized party, which elects annually a Central Committee now consisting of 71 members and 68 alternates

* Due to a new Constitution was adopted which provides for the election of a Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R. Elections have not yet been held so a description of the new organs of government will be postponed until the next issue of the Political Handbook.

The Central Committee chooses (1) an executive body known as the Political Bureau, of 10 members and 5 alternates, (2) an organization bureau (Orgburo) and (3) a Secretariat consisting of 5 members, 3 of whom are members of the Executive Committee of the 3d (Communist) Internationale. Many of the members of the Central Committee hold high positions in the Soviet Government, including 18 of the 19 members of the Council of Commissars, and 6 are members of the Executive Committee of the 3d Internationale. Joseph Stalin, the General Secretary, is the man recognized as the most influential individual in guiding Communist policy, which has promoted rapid industrialization of the country and collectivization of agriculture. Molotov, President of the Council of People's Commissars, is a member of the Political Bureau of the Party. The relationship existing between the Government, the Party, and the 3d Internationale may be judged from the posts held by some of the Communist party leaders.

Yakovlev — Commissar for Communications member of Central Executive Committee of the U S S R., member of Central Committee of the Communist Party

Zhdanov — Alternate of Political Bureau, Secretary of Central Committee of Communist Party, member of Central Executive Committee of U S S R

Within the All Union (formerly Russian) Communist Party an important opposition group, critical of the policies of the ruling group in the Central Committee dominated by Stalin, developed several years ago. It included such former official chieftains as Trotsky (formerly Commissar for War and Member of Political Bureau of Party), Zinoviev (formerly Chairman of the Executive Committee of the 3d Internationale), Kamenev, Piatakov, Radek, and Rakovsky (formerly Ambassador to France) Between November, 1927, and January, 1928, by decisions of the Central Committee of the Russian Communist Party and of the Party Congress, respectively, most of the leaders of the opposition (including Trotsky, Zinoviev, Kamenev, Radek, Rakovsky, and others) were expelled from the Party and banished, Rakovsky later recanted; all except Trotsky received amnesty. In 1932 Zinoviev and Kamenev were again expelled from the party together with 18 other less-known old communists. During 1929 and 1930 the development of a "Right Opposition" headed by Bukharin, Rykov, and Tomsky led finally to the expulsion of all three from the Political Bureau. This served greatly to strengthen Stalin's position. In 1936 Zinoviev and Kamenev together with others of the opposition group were tried and, after confessing, convicted of the murder of S. M. Kirov, member of the Political Bureau of the Communist Party, and shot. Tomsky, whose name was mentioned at the trial, committed suicide.

COLONEL PHYA PHAHOL PHOLPHAYUHA SENA
(President of Council of State)

Appointed June 22, 1933, re-appointed February 12, 1936

On June 24, 1932, the absolute monarchy in Siam was overthrown by a coup d'état. Three days later King Prajadhipok signed a provisional constitution, which was replaced on December 10, 1932, by a permanent constitution. The constitution provides for a State Council appointed by the King and composed of a President and from fourteen to twenty-four other State Councillors. It also provides for a unicameral legislative body, known as the Assembly of the People's Representatives, which is made up of members elected for four years by the people. During a transitional period, not to exceed ten years from the date of the signing of the provisional constitution, there shall be two categories of members of the Assembly, members of the first category being elective and those of the second being appointed by the King under the terms of the Electoral Law (promulgated December 16, 1932), at the close of the transitional period all members are to be elective. The Assembly as now organized consists of 156 members. The State Council must possess the confidence of the Assembly, to which it is collectively responsible for the general policy of the Government.

In the latter part of 1933 the new Government banned political associations and no political parties are recognized as existing in Siam.

On April 1, 1933, King Prajadhipok dissolved the Assembly of the People's Representatives and appointed a State Council of conservative character. In June 1933 Colonel Phya Phahol, who had participated as a leader in the original coup d'état of June 1932, led a new coup d'état, following which a liberal State Council was formed and he became Premier.

On March 2, 1935, King Prajadhipok abdicated, whereupon Prince Ananda Mahidol, son of His late Royal Highness Prince Mahidol of Songkhla, was appointed King as from the same date. The King has been absent from Siam since the beginning of his reign A Council of Regency consisting of three members represents the authority of the King

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

UNITED PARTY The coalition of the Nationalist Party and the South African Party in 1933 led to fusion in 1934, the two parties, with the approval of the Party congresses, have merged in the United Party, with General Hertzog as Prime Minister, and General Smuts as Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Justice.

The Pact on compact affirms the existing relationship between the Union and the British Commonwealth of Nations, but stipulates that its maintenance shall be subject to there being no derogation from the Sovereign Independent Status of the Union and no assumption of external obligations in conflict with its interests or its sovereign freedom. At the 1934 Parliamentary session the Government enacted changes in the South Africa Act of 1909 (the Union's original constitution) in the form of legislation which provides that the King shall act only on the advice of his South African Ministers, defines the Union's status as one of Sovereign Independence, and provides South Africa with its own Great Seal. The custody of the Great Seal is (contrary to previous practice) now vested in the Prime Minister, who also is empowered by the Royal Executive Functions and Seals Act to affix the Royal Seal to legislation whenever, in his opinion, the delay involved in obtaining the King's signature would either frustrate the object thereof, or retard the despatch of public business. In such circumstances the Governor-General shall sign on behalf of the King. Further legislation has been introduced to re-enact the amended South Africa Act as a Union Act.

The United Party program includes a proviso that no one will be denied the right to advocate a change in the form of government. This proviso is admitted to be a concession to the old Afrikaner Republican sentiment, since the purpose is to give freedom to any member of the United Party to make propaganda for the establishment of a Republican form of Government.

In domestic policy the United Party recognizes the two great primary industries, agriculture and mining, as the foundations of the country's permanent welfare, it encourages the concurrent development of commerce and secondary industry, and maintains the Civilized White Labor policy.

The recognition of the Natives as a permanent portion of the population of South Africa under the Christian trusteeship of the European race is accepted as a fundamental principle of Native policy, but there will be no intermixture of the races and the Party will seek a solution of the Native question along lines which, without depriving the native of his right of development, will recognize as paramount the essentials of European civilization.

Leaders General J. B. M. Hertzog (Prime Minister and Minister for External Affairs), General J. C. Smuts (Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Justice), Nicolaas Christian Havenga (Minister of Finance), Oswald Pirow (Minister of Railways and Harbors and of Defence), Jan H. Hofmeyr (Minister of Mines, Education and Social Welfare), Pieter G. W. Grobler (Minister of Native Affairs), Colonel Deney's Reitz (Minister of Agriculture and Forestry), General Jan C. G. Kemp (Minister of Lands), Senator Charles F. Clarkson (Minister of Posts and Telegraphs), A. P. S. Fourie (Minister of Commerce and Industries), Richard Stuttaford (Minister of Interior and Public Health) and F. C. Sturrock (Minister without Portfolio).

DR. MALAN'S PARTY The former members of the Nationalist Party who have combined under Dr. D. F. Malan in opposition to the fusion claim that it is the true Nationalist Party. They are in favor of the fullest political and economic independence of South Africa, and eventually the formation of a republic. They advocate the taxing of the mines to the limit in order to assist agriculture and other industries. They stress the enforcing of bilingualism (English and Afrikaans) for all Government employees.

Leaders Dr. D. F. Malan (formerly Minister of Interior), Reverend Dr. C. W. du Toit, F. C. Erasmus (formerly organizing Secretary of the Cape Nationalist Party) and Dr. N. J. van der Merwe (Members of Parliament).

DOMINION PARTY This Party consists of former members of the South African Party who left the Fusion Party when the Government introduced the Constitutional Bill. It adheres to old principles of the South African Party and places cooperation within the British Empire, as opposed to Sovereign Independence, in the forefront of its program. It challenges the Prime Minister's contention that South Africa may remain neutral in any future war in which Great Britain might be involved.

The Party has formulated an advanced policy for the rehabilitation of industry and agriculture and advocates social justice for all races and classes in the Union.

Leaders Colonel C. F. Stallard, C. W. A. Coulter and J. S. Marwick (Members of Parliament).

LABOR PARTY With the end of the Pact with the Nationalist Party made in 1924 and continued in 1929, and the split in the party, the Labor Party in South Africa lost practically all of its former strength and importance. It favors the maintenance of the color bar in industries, protection of the welfare of workers, state assistance to industry and most of the usual labor policies.

Leaders Thomas Boddell and J. D. F. Briggs (Senators) and D. C. Burgard and W. B. Madelev (Members of Parliament)

GREY SHIRTS A Party formed on Nazi lines which has been active in conducting anti-Jewish propaganda in the country districts.

Leaders L. T. Wecharat and F. S. du Toit.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

Spain is in the throes of a revolution. Following the election of February 16, 1936, when the Left parties won a majority in the Cortes, the political situation became more and more confused until armed revolt under the leadership of General Francisco Franco broke out in July, 1936.

Directly after the election Manuel Azaña a Left Republican, formed a Cabinet. It contained no Socialists or Communists. When Azaña was elected President in May, his lieutenant Santiago Casares Quiroga, also a Left Republican, headed the Cabinet which still contained no Socialists or Communists. This government was in power when the rebellion was precipitated by General Franco.

The necessity of combining all elements favorable to the Republic and opposed to fascism resulted later in the reorganization of the government and on September 4, 1936, Largo Caballero leader of the Socialists, became Premier and included in his cabinet several Socialists and two Communists. In the reconstitution of his government on November 5, 1936, four Syndicalists were included. The members of the Cabinet are: Francisco Largo Caballero (Premier and Minister of War), Indalecio Prieto (Minister of Marine and Air), Julio Alvarez del Vayo (Minister of Foreign Affairs), Juan Garcia Oliver (Minister of Justice), Juan Negrin (Minister of Finance), Jesus Hernandez (Minister of Education), Angel Galarza (Minister of Interior), Anastasio de Gracia (Minister of Labor), Bernardo Giner (Minister of Communications), Juan Peto (Minister of Industry), Vicente Uribe (Minister of Agriculture), Juan Lopez (Minister of Commerce), Federico Monisany (Minister of Health), Carlos Espala (Minister of Propaganda), Jose G. del and Jaime Arzade (Ministers without Portfolio)

The programs and leaders of the parties in Spain prior to the outbreak of the rebellion were as follows:

RIGHT

AGRARIAN POPULIST PARTY A conservative, Catholic nationalist group leaning toward Monarchist ideals. Their leader announced his acceptance of the Republican regime.

Leader Jose Maria Gil Robles.

AGRARIAN PARTY Strongly Catholic and conservative in character, and defended not only agrarian but church interests.

Leaders Jose Martinez de Velasco (former Minister of Foreign Affairs) and Antonio Rovo Villanova.

CATALAN LEAGUE A conservative and strongly regionalist party in opposition to Catalan Left Party.

Leaders Francisco Cambo and Juan Ventosa.

TRADITIONALIST PARTY Monarchists of Carlist persuasion and therefore opposed to Alfonso XIII, an entirely Catholic and conservative.

Leader Conde de Rodas.

RENOVACION ESPAÑOLA PARTY Monarchists who openly avowed the restoration of Alfonso XIII and a return to the old order, an entirely Catholic and reactionary.

Leaders Antonio Goicoechea and Calvo Sotelo.

INDEPENDENTS (RIGHT) Conservative and reactionary but not affiliated with Right parties.

Leader Abilio Calzon.

BASQUE NATIONALIST PARTY Strongly Catholic and conservative with Carlist monarchical leanings. They differed from the other Right groups principally in their espousal of a statute to give a measure of autonomy to the Basque Province.

Leader Jose Horn.

INDEPENDENTS (MONARCHISTS) Stood aloof from Renovacion Española and Traditionalists and pursued an independent course looking toward restoration of monarchy on English model.

Leader Count Romanones (former Minister of the King)

CENTRE

RADICAL PARTY This party favored the attainment of reforms and consolidation of the Republic through orderly processes of Law and close cooperation with Right parties within the republican regime.

Leaders Alvaro de Larrea Garcia (many times Premier) and Santiago Alba (President of the Cortes)

CONSERVATIVE REPUBLICAN PARTY This party was Catholic, conservative and republican

Leader Miguel Maura

LIBERAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY A small conservative party.

Leader Melquiades Alvarez

LEFT

SOCIALIST PARTY Its policies included consolidation of the Republic, socialization of production and confiscation of the large rural estates

Leaders Julian Besteiro, Francisco Largo Caballero (Premier and Minister of War), Indalecio Prieto (Minister of Marine and Air), Fernando de los Rios (Ambassador to the United States) and Jimenez Asua

RADICAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY Also called Republican Union Party Stood for original purposes of the revolution of 1931, complete separation of Church and State, establishment of free public schools, improvement by progressive laws of social condition of workers and peasants

Leader Martinez Barrio (formerly Premier)

CATALONIAN LEFT PARTY (ESQUERRA) This party favored economic, social and political reforms of a radical nature, strongly regionalist

Leaders Luis Companys (formerly President of the Catalan Generalidad), Nicolas D'Oliver and Trabal Sans

LEFT REPUBLICAN PARTY Had identical program to that of Radical Democratic Party

Leaders Manuel Azafia (President of the Republic), Casares Quiroga and Barcia Trelles

Leaders of other Parties Gordon Ordaz (Radical Socialist), Sanchez Roman (National Republican), Franchy Rocha (Federal), Bolivar (Communist)

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY A moderate, constitutional socialist labor party, adhering to the 2d Internationale. In foreign policy, favors increased effectiveness of the League of Nations, development of international law as the best means of maintaining peace, popular control of foreign policy, and gradual disarmament. In domestic policy, in theory republican, advocates democracy in management of industry, social measures such as housing reforms and development of social insurance.

Leaders Per Albin Hansson (Premier, President of Party), R. J. Sandler (Minister for Foreign Affairs), Harold Akerberg and Anders Anderson.

CONSERVATIVE PARTY Fully monarchical. In foreign policy, favors the development of international law to prevent war, and adequate military defense, to be reduced only as mutual agreements are made and international law becomes effective for the settlement of disputes. In domestic policy, the party favors maintenance of existing private system of production, freedom of labor as against monopolistic tendencies of unions, favors development of agriculture and commerce and protection of domestic industry against foreign competition, deeply interested in Christian and ethical education of youth.

Leaders Prof. Gösta Bagge and Martin Skoglund

PEOPLE'S PARTY A fusion of the old Prohibition Liberal Party and the Liberal Party. In foreign policy, emphasizes the importance of peaceful and free relations between peoples, favors disarmament, control of war industries and an appropriate defense system. In domestic policy, favors collaboration between the classes, private enterprise, commerce, handicraft and small industry, the facilitation of international trade, checking of trusts and other monopolies, both State and private, reform of the electoral system (favoring election of individuals, not, as now, the dominance of lists under the proportional system)

Leaders Gustaf Andersson and Governor Felix Hamrin.

AGRARIAN PARTY Conservative in tendency, working for the social, economic, and political interests of the farmers. Favors protection for domestic agriculture, reduction of farm taxation, aid to farm laborers in securing homes, farm credit facilities, increase of local self-government, protection of land ownership, economy in administration and adequate national defense.

Leader Axel Pehrson (Minister of Agriculture) and J. Nilsson (Minister of Defense)

SOCIALIST PARTY Formed by faction of the Communist Party and certain extremists of Social Democratic Party in 1934. Although advocating communistic ideas it does not adhere to the 3d Internationale.

Leaders Karl Kulbom and Nils Flyg

COMMUNISTS Affiliated with the 3d Internationale

Leaders Hugo Sillen and Sven Linderot.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

RADICAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY A progressive, middle-class party, brought about the revolution of 1847, which definitely impelled the change from a confederation to a federative state, centralist, responsible for the Constitution of 1874, and in large part for assumption of control of railways by the Federal Government. Favors strengthening of national defense, advocates reform legislation including social measures, factory laws, etc., and use of alcohol and tobacco revenues for social welfare, urges the restriction of foreign residents.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY A constitutional and trade-union socialist Marxist party, with an active radical wing, adherent of the 2d Internationale. Advocates wider State ownership and control, direct federal taxation, anti-militarism, and woman suffrage, its success in Parliament dates from the introduction of proportional representation as well as its defense of higher salaries for government employees and workmen.

CATHOLIC CONSERVATIVE PARTY A clerical federalist party, dating from opposition to the revolution of 1847. Opposes centralization of national power, advocates religious freedom, especially for the cantons as to control of religious education, opposes direct taxation and favors alcohol and tobacco taxes, advocates social measures, comprises two factions, one tending to social conservatism and one to Christian socialist principles.

FARMERS, WORKERS AND MIDDLE CLASS PARTY Seceded from Radical Democratic Party in 1919 a governmental party, but more conservative and strongly in favor of agrarian reforms. Advocates laws and tariffs protecting agricultural interest and industry, and strong national defense.

INDEPENDENTS' PARTY A progressive, middle class party representing consumers interests, favors reduction of cost of living

Leaders Gottlieb Duttweiler, Fr. Wuthrich and Balthasar Zimmermann (Members of National Council)

LIBERAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY Similar to Catholic Conservative Party in program, but recruited more in protestant circles, federalist, opposed to socialism and strong centralist tendencies in government, supported by middle classes of the larger towns. Favors free trade and social insurance measures, and opposes direct federal taxation

Leaders Dr. Jakob Albert Oeri, Ch. Gorgérat, Albert Picot, Marcel Krügel (Members of National Council), Frederic Martin and de Coulon (Members of Council of States)

Leaders Dr. Hans Müller and Dr. Gadiant (Members of National Council)

SOCIAL POLITICAL PARTY Formed by split from Radical Democratic Party on issues involving a more advanced program of social legislation tending to socialism and state direction of economic activities, centralist.

Leaders Edwin Hanser (President of Council of States) and R. Tschudy (Member of National Council)

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

PEOPLE'S PARTY The only political party existing in Turkey, strongly nationalistic. In foreign policy it favors the settlement of international disputes by negotiation or arbitration, but advocates a strong army to insure Turkish sovereignty and independence. In domestic policy it works for the adoption of modern ideas and the westernization of Turkey, the building of highways and railways for economic and strategic reasons, the separation of Church and State, the establishment of absolute equality of all in the eyes of the law, and the support of the Turkish language and culture to assure unity among the people. In economic matters it advocates etatism. It recognizes the republic as the proper present and future government for Turkey, and gives solely to Kamal Atatürk as President General of the Party the right to speak in its name.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

There are no fundamental differences between the major political parties of the United States — the Democratic and the Republican — corresponding to the parliamentary bloc system of Continental Europe or to the clear distinction between the Whig and the Tory parties in England. Even in the case of the principal issue of the tariff, the economic changes which have occurred in recent years, such as the growing industrialization of the Southern states, have caused modifications in the programs of the parties, bringing their views on this major question more and more into accord. Formerly the Republicans, centering in the North and industrial East, advocated a high or protective schedule, while the Democrats of the agricultural South stood for a tariff for revenue only. A careful examination of the programs of the Democratic and Republican parties, which follow, will reveal few important differences. Although the 1936 platforms reveal that the two parties have exchanged certain planks, neither has broken completely with tradition. There are liberal and conservative

Democrats, liberal and conservative Republicans Obviously, a popular program in either case must be a compromise between these extremes

The fundamental difference between the parties of Europe and the United States grows out of the federal character of the American Union Thus while every nation wide party is compelled to maintain a national organization, which becomes especially active during the quadrennial presidential campaigns, it must also have an organization in every state in order to carry on campaigns for state offices, and also to assist the national organization in presidential years Each state organization is autonomous and at liberty to adopt any platform of principles which it chooses, and between the state organizations there is frequently a diversity of interest or at least a diversity in the selection of paramount issues It follows that each major party includes in its membership citizens of all ranks and grades and some without apparent identity of interest or convictions

In occasional instances blocs representing sectional, or economic, or personal interests are formed within the major parties Sometimes these result in open secession, when independent candidates are supported But these splits have been of brief duration, and compromises or termination of the cause that led to them have effected the return of minorities to the major party, in which they sometimes continue to operate as blocs In the present Congress seven seats, two in the Senate and five in the House, are occupied by Farmer-Laborites, representing a rift in the Republican Party

The Progressives, who for long paid nominal allegiance to the Republican party, became an independent group in 1934 It is not a national group but is concentrated in Wisconsin and is led by Robert La Follette (Senator), and his brother Philip La Follette (Governor of Wisconsin) In the present Congress the Progressives have one seat in the Senate and eight in the House

The programs, or platforms, of the parties are adopted at the quadrennial conventions, when the presidential candidates are chosen It should be pointed out that the parties do not necessarily carry out the pledges in their platforms even though they succeed in electing a majority in both houses of Congress They serve to get candidates elected rather than specifically to guide them after they attain office The platforms adopted at the conventions in 1936 follow

DEMOCRATIC PARTY Traditionally the low-tariff party, strongest in the Southern states Its general principles as laid down in the 1936 platform are In foreign policy, non-interference in the internal affairs of other nations and coöperation with the nations of the Western Hemisphere to maintain the spirit of the Monroe Doctrine, all of which it calls the "Good Neighbor" Policy, opposition to war as an instrument of national policy and the settlement of international disputes by arbitration, making the Kellogg Briand treaty effective by consultation and conference in case of a threatened violation, international agreements for reduction of armaments, but maintenance of an army and navy adequate for national defense, a policy of taking the profits out of war, no cancellation of the debts owed the United States by foreign nations The party originally advocated joining the League of Nations, but it subsequently dropped this issue, membership in the World Court has likewise been dropped following the Senate's defeat of this bill in 1935 In domestic policy the 1936 platform defended the Reciprocal Trade Treaties as beneficial to both agriculture and industry, conceived of unemployment as a national problem to be met in a national way, other problems — drought, dust storms, minimum hours and wages, child labor — it defined as not capable of solution by 48 separate states but recommended State and Federal cooperation, Federal coöperation to proceed within the limits of the constitution, but if this is impossible the Party recommends an amendment to the constitution, opposed monopolies and concentration of power, recommended various safeguards for savings and investment (insisting on the truth in the sale of securities, applying a brake on use of credit for speculative purposes, curbing certain practices of utility holding companies, insuring fifty million bank accounts), continued protection of the rights of labor, defended old age and social security insurance, approved of rural electrification and cheap power, promised continued aid to the farmer, defended soil conservation, and expressed a desire to mitigate farm tenancy, it promised an immediate extension of the merit system and a reduction in the expenses of government, a part of this reduction to come by returning prosperity, cherished a sound currency but a currency so stabilized as to prevent former wide fluctuations in value.

Leaders Franklin D. Roosevelt (President of the Republic), John V. Garner (Vice President of the Republic, President of the Senate), James A. Farley (Chairman of National Democratic Committee, Postmaster-General), Joseph T. Robinson (Party Leader in the Senate), William B. Bankhead (Speaker of the House) and Sam Rayburn (Party Leader in the House). There is a National Committee of 108 members and 48 Chairmen of State Committees who may all be considered party leaders.

REPUBLICAN PARTY Traditionally the high-tariff party, strong in the Northern and Eastern states. Its general principles as laid down in the 1936 platform are as follows: In foreign policy, urged collection of Allied debts, officially endorsed the Kellogg Briand treaty for the renunciation of war, though some of its members have opposed it, favored consultative conference in any case of non fulfillment of Article 2 of Kellogg Briand treaty, stood for non recognition of gains made through violation of treaties, pronounced against joining the World Court, opposed membership in the League of Nations or the assumption of any obligations under the Covenant of the League, but advocated cooperation in its humanitarian and technical work, favored the negotiation of commercial treaties based on equal opportunity for trade and commerce on the most favored nation principle, declared against imperialistic ambitions with respect to the independent nations of Latin America, but wishes only to promote their welfare and common interest, desired an adequate national defense but cooperation with other nations for a limitation of armaments and control of traffic in arms. In domestic policy, it endorsed a tariff to protect American manufactures and labor, and demanded the repeal of the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Law, defended the independence and integrity of the Supreme Court, championed local self-government and recommended that relief be returned to the local areas, promised continued assistance to the farmer, approved of soil conservation and land retirement, urged the repeal of all Federal laws hindering the prosperity of industry and agriculture inasmuch as the solution of unemployment lies in the increased activity of all branches of production, protection of the full rights of labor, approved of old age security but on a pay-as-you-go basis, strict enforcement of laws against monopolies, enforcement of the principle of civil service, demanded a cessation of the Government's spending policy, the necessity of a balanced budget, and a revision of the Federal tax system, postulated the existence of a sound currency on a balanced budget, promised no further devaluation, and approved of cooperation with other countries to promote currency stabilization.

Leaders Alfred M. Landon (Presidential candidate in 1936), Herbert Hoover (formerly President of the Republic), John D. M. Hamilton (Chairman of the Republican National Committee), Charles L. McNary (Party Leader in the Senate) and Bertrand H. Snell (Party Leader in the House) There is a National Committee of 104 members and 48 Chairmen of State Committees who may all be considered party leaders.

NOTE — One of the noteworthy developments of the press of the United States is the increase of newspaper groups. There are now approximately fifty such groups and their combined circulation is nearly 40 percent of the total for the daily papers of the country. Most of these groups are sectional. Only the following two may be said to have attained national scope.

Name of Group	Political Affiliation	Proprietor, Editor, etc
Hearst newspapers	Independent, composed of 28 papers in 18 cities	William R Hearst (Prop)
Scripps Howard newspapers	Independent, composed of 24 papers in 23 cities	Robert P Scripps (Controlling Shareholder) William W Hawkins (Chairman of Board) G B Parker (Ed)

A number of important papers which maintain large staffs of foreign correspondents operate syndicated news services which are used extensively by other papers. The larger services of this kind include those of the New York Times, the New York Herald Tribune, the Chicago Tribune, and the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE PRESS IN THE UNITED STATES

The following newspapers represent the more important non-English speaking groups in the United States. In each case the newspaper chosen is the one with the greatest circulation of all papers in the given language. Circulation figures are based on Editor & Publisher, International Year Book, 1936

Parties, both of which advocated constitutional reform and are proportionally represented in the Constituent Assembly and the Provisional Government. When the new constitution was approved by the National Constituent Assembly the Colorado and Blanco Parties agreed that President Terra and Dr Alfredo Navarro would be the candidates for the President and Vice President of the Republic in the general election to be held April 19, 1934. They were both elected for a four-year term as from May 18, 1934.

COLORADO PARTY The Colorado Party has controlled the executive power for over fifty years. Its program is progressive, advocating advanced labor laws, the encouragement of physical education, the building of public playgrounds, etc., favors old age pensions, the funds to be established by state and private concerns, recommends government ownership and operation of public utilities, national interest in athletic sports and the continued separation of Church and State.

The majority of the Colorado Party, including the Riverista faction, supported the President in the change in Government on March 31, 1933. The ultra-Batllista faction, formerly led by Dr Baltazar Brum, opposed constitutional reform and officially abstained from voting in the election of members of the Constituent Assembly as well as in the general election of April 19, 1934. Dr Brum committed suicide after resisting arrest on March 30, 1933.

Leaders Dr Gabriel Terra (Terra faction, President of the Republic), Dr Pedro Manini Rios (Riverista faction, candidate for President in the November, 1930 elections), Dr Alberto Mañé (Traditionalist faction, Minister to France, former Minister of Foreign Affairs), Jose Espalter (Radical faction, Minister of Foreign Affairs), Augusto Cesar Bado (Minister of Interior), Cesar Gutierrez (Minister of Agriculture), Blanco Acevedo (formerly Minister of Public Health), General Alfredo Baldomir (formerly Minister of National Defense) and Cesar Charlone (Minister of Finance).

BLANCO PARTY The "Herreristas," who compose the majority of the Blanco Party, are the only Blanco factions represented in the present Government. The two independent factions of the Colorado and Blanco Parties which opposed constitutional reform, namely the Radical Colorados and the Independent Blancos, are now practically disrupted. The most consistent feature of the Blanco program has been its advocacy of more extensive power for the President of the Republic which was obtained by the new constitution.

Leaders Dr Luis Alberto Herrera (Senator), Zolio Saldias (Minister of Industry and Labor), Dr Martin R. Etchegoyen (Minister of Public Works) and Dr Victor Haldó (Minister of Public Instruction).

Other Party Leaders J. Secco Illa (leader of the Union Civica or Catholic Party), Dr Emilio Frugoni (leader of the Socialist Party) and Eugenio Gomez (leader of the Communist Party). All three are members of the Chamber of Deputies.

THE COLLEGE OF CARDINALS

The cardinals constitute the Senate of the Pope and are his chief advisers. Upon his death, they elect his successor for life. The cardinals themselves are created for life by the Pope as vacancies occur. The College, when complete, consists of 70 members: 6 Cardinal Bishops, 50 Cardinal Priests and 14 Cardinal Deacons. Their nationality at present is: Italian 38, French 7, American 4, Spanish 4, German 3, Polish 2, Czechoslovakian 2, Argentine, Austrian, Belgian, Brazilian, Canadian, Hungarian, Irish, and Portuguese 1 each. There are 2 vacancies.

THE CURIA ROMANA

The Curia Romana, which carries on the central administration of the Roman Catholic Church, consists of 11 committees.

FOREIGN REPRESENTATION

The Holy See maintains regular diplomatic relations with 40 countries by means of Apostolic Nuncios or Inter Nuncios in the foreign country or by diplomatic representatives resident in the Vatican City. It also has unofficial relations by means of Apostolic Delegates with a number of other countries.

GOVERNMENT

The immediate government of the State of the Vatican City, established by the Lateran Treaty of February 11, 1929, is in the hands of a Governor (Marquis Camillo Serafini). He is assisted by a Counselor General, a General Council of Government (Count Franco Ratti, President of the Council), and by a number of offices. The legal system is based on canon law and pontifical constitutions and rules, and where these do not apply, the Italian law of Rome applies. There are no political parties and no parliament. There is a complete coinage system, postal system, railroad station and radio station.

PARTY PROGRAMS AND LEADERS

The royal decree of January 6, 1929, dissolved the old political parties. The Constitution of September 3, 1931, prohibited their reconstruction. New parties may not be formed if they are based on regional, tribal or religious divisions.

YUGOSLAV RADICAL UNION Founded in 1935 through the fusion of the Serbian Radical, the Bosnian Moslem, and the Slovene Clerical Parties. It stands for a strong central government, a representative Parliament and larger provincial (or Banat) autonomy.

Leaders: Milan Stoyadinovich (Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs, former leader of Serbian Radical Party), Dr. Mehmed Spaho (Minister of Communications, former leader of Moslem Party) and Dr. Anton Koroshets (Minister of Home Affairs, former leader of Slovene Clerical Party).

YUGOSLAV NATIONAL PARTY Formed in 1931 by Gen. Pera Zhivkovich (formerly Minister of War), and composed of members of old conservative parties. Its watchword is "National Unity," and it stands for a strong government and limited provincial autonomy.

Leader: General Pera Zhivkovich.

YUGOSLAV POPULAR PARTY Founded in 1933. Has strong centralist and nationalist tendencies, sometimes called a Fascist party (the Yugoslav Blue Shirts).

Leaders: S. Hodjera and J. Lukich.

Unrecognized Parties

THE UNITED OPPOSITION. This is not a united party but a loose federation composed of three parties: (1) the Croatian-Democrat Coalition, composed of the Croatian Peasant Party led by Dr. Vladimir Machek and the much less important Independent Democrat Party led by Dr. Adam Prbiebevic, (2) the Yugoslav Democrat Party led by Lyuba Davidovich, (3) the Agrarian Party, composed of two groups, one led by Dr. Yovan Yovanovich and the other, which is much less important and has a communist trend, by Dr. Dragolyub Yovanovich. In addition there are other factions and small parties, including the Yugoslav Popular Movement ("Zbor") which advocates a complete reorganization based on the corporative system. It is led by D. Lyotich (formerly Minister of Justice).
